

Create

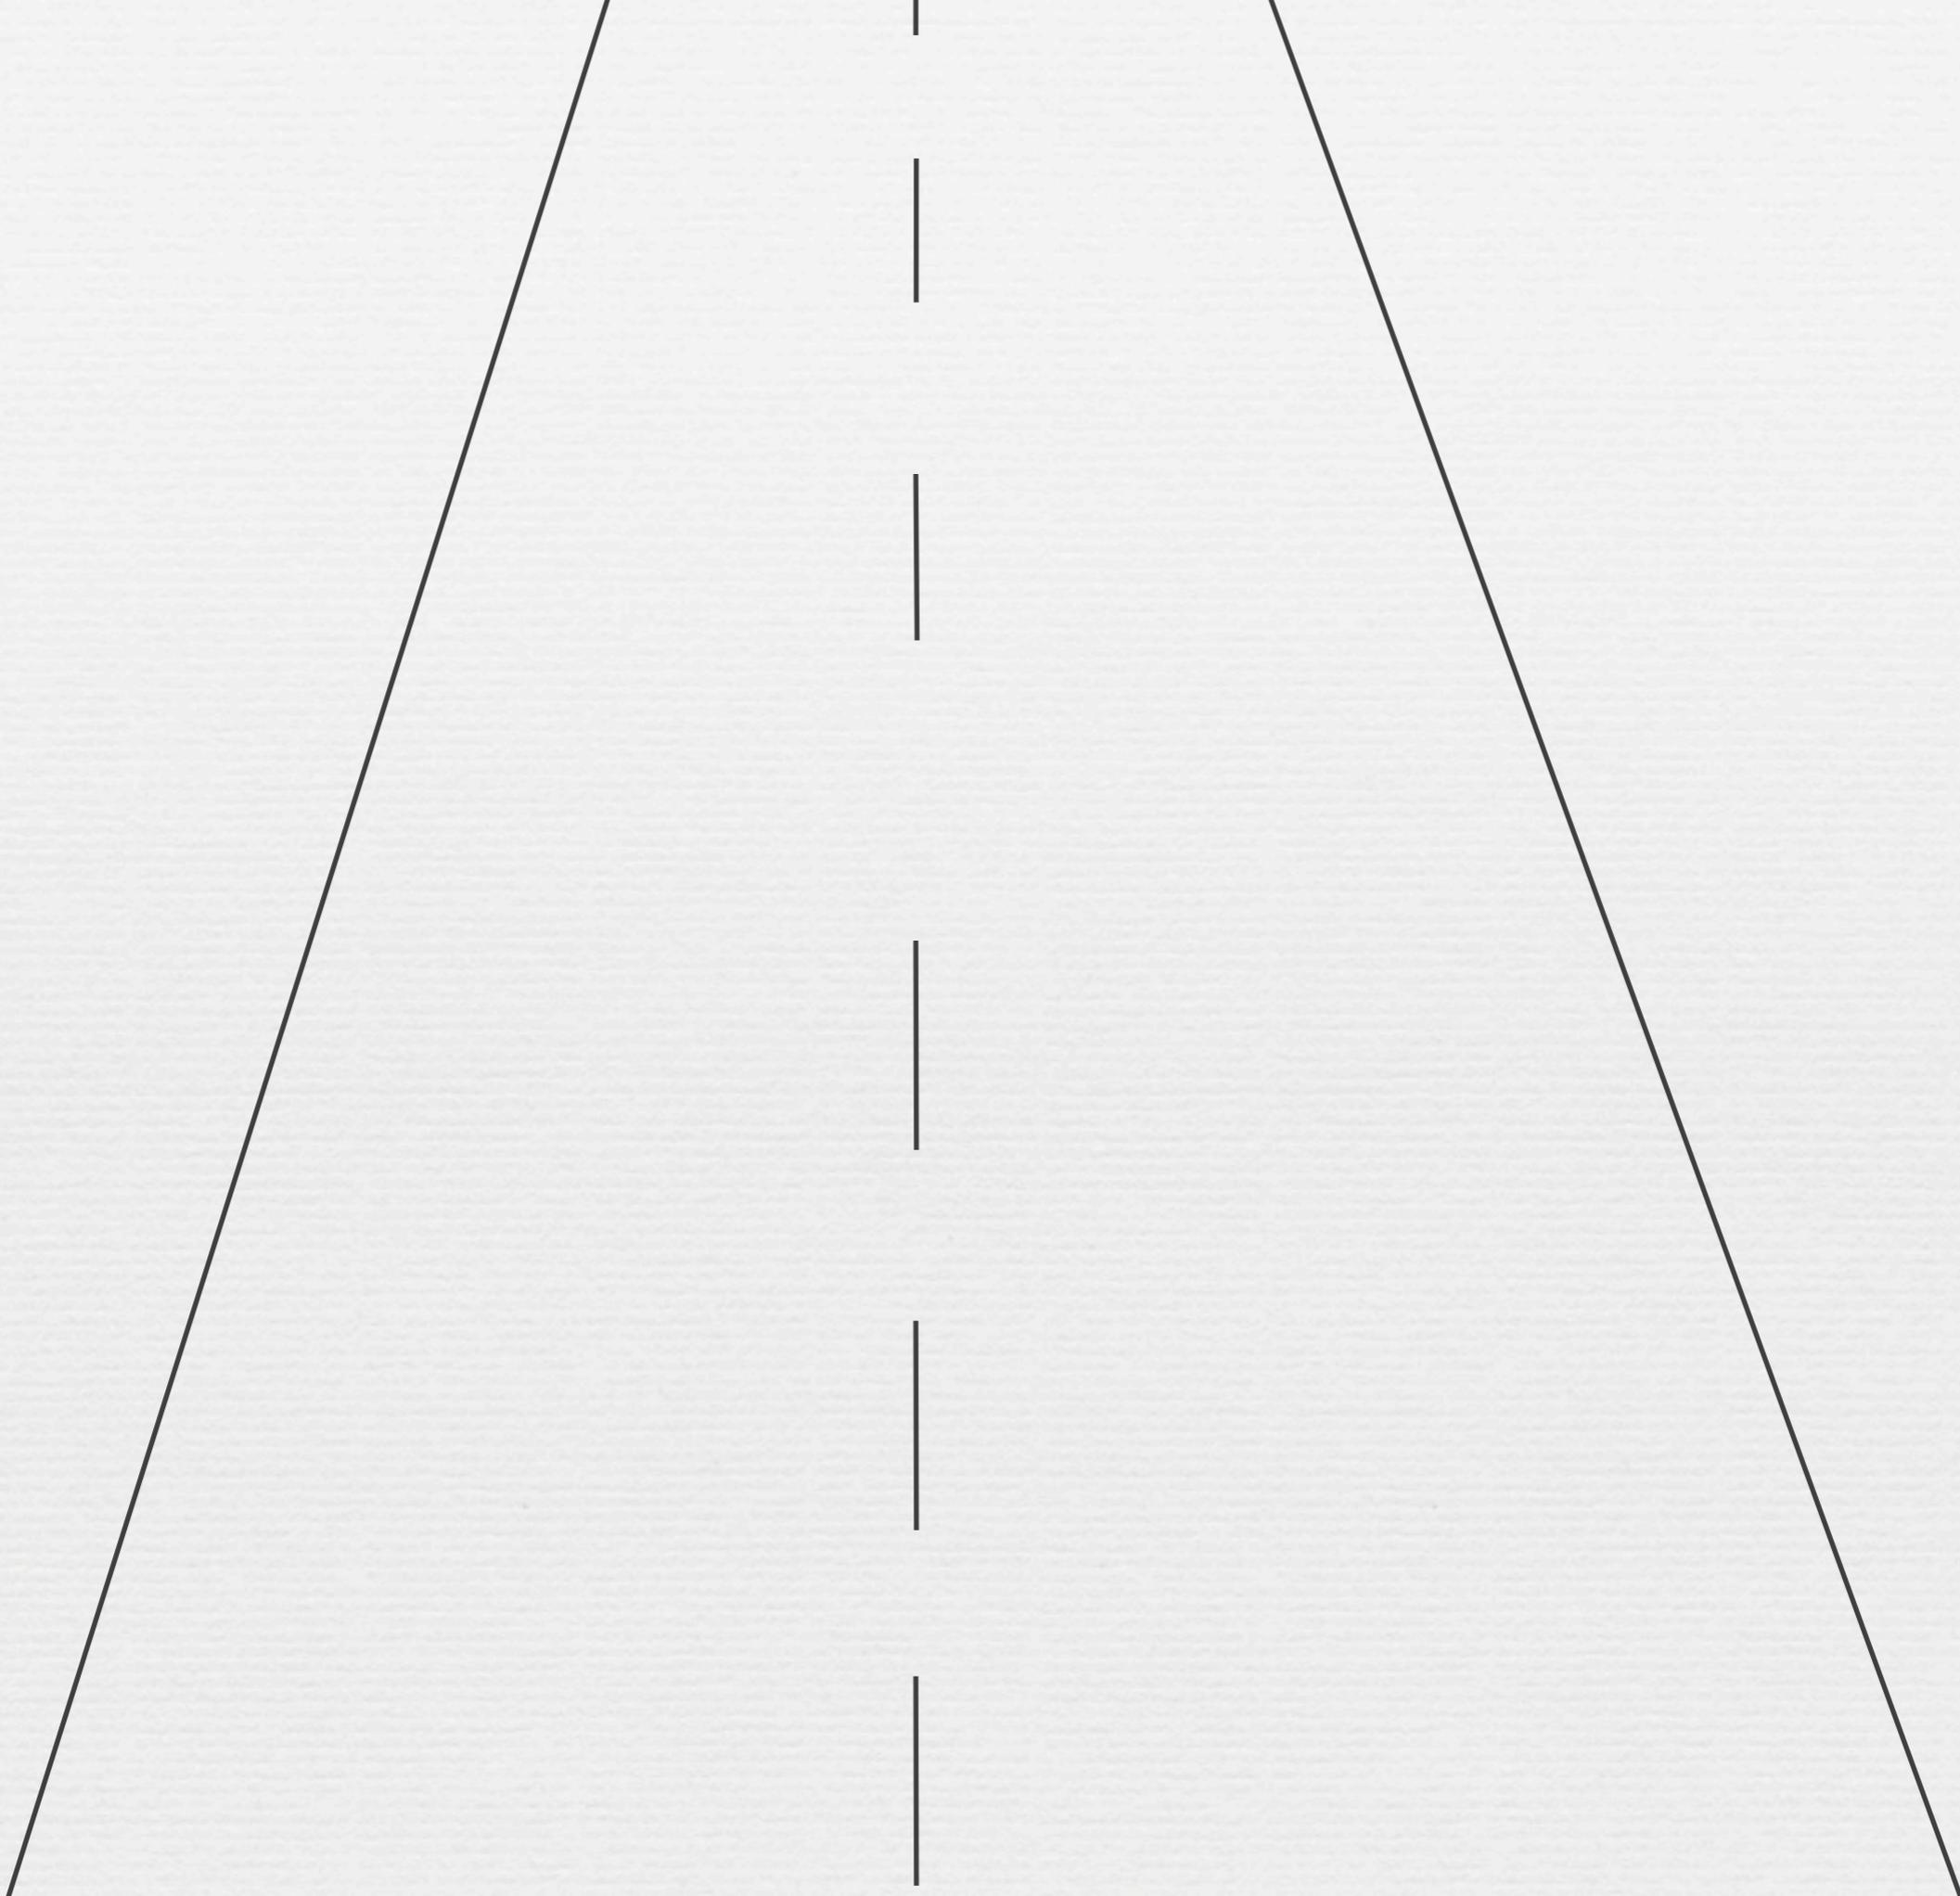

Commandment: Give space, time and energy to your creativity.
If you don't, your space, time and energy will go to things you don't value.

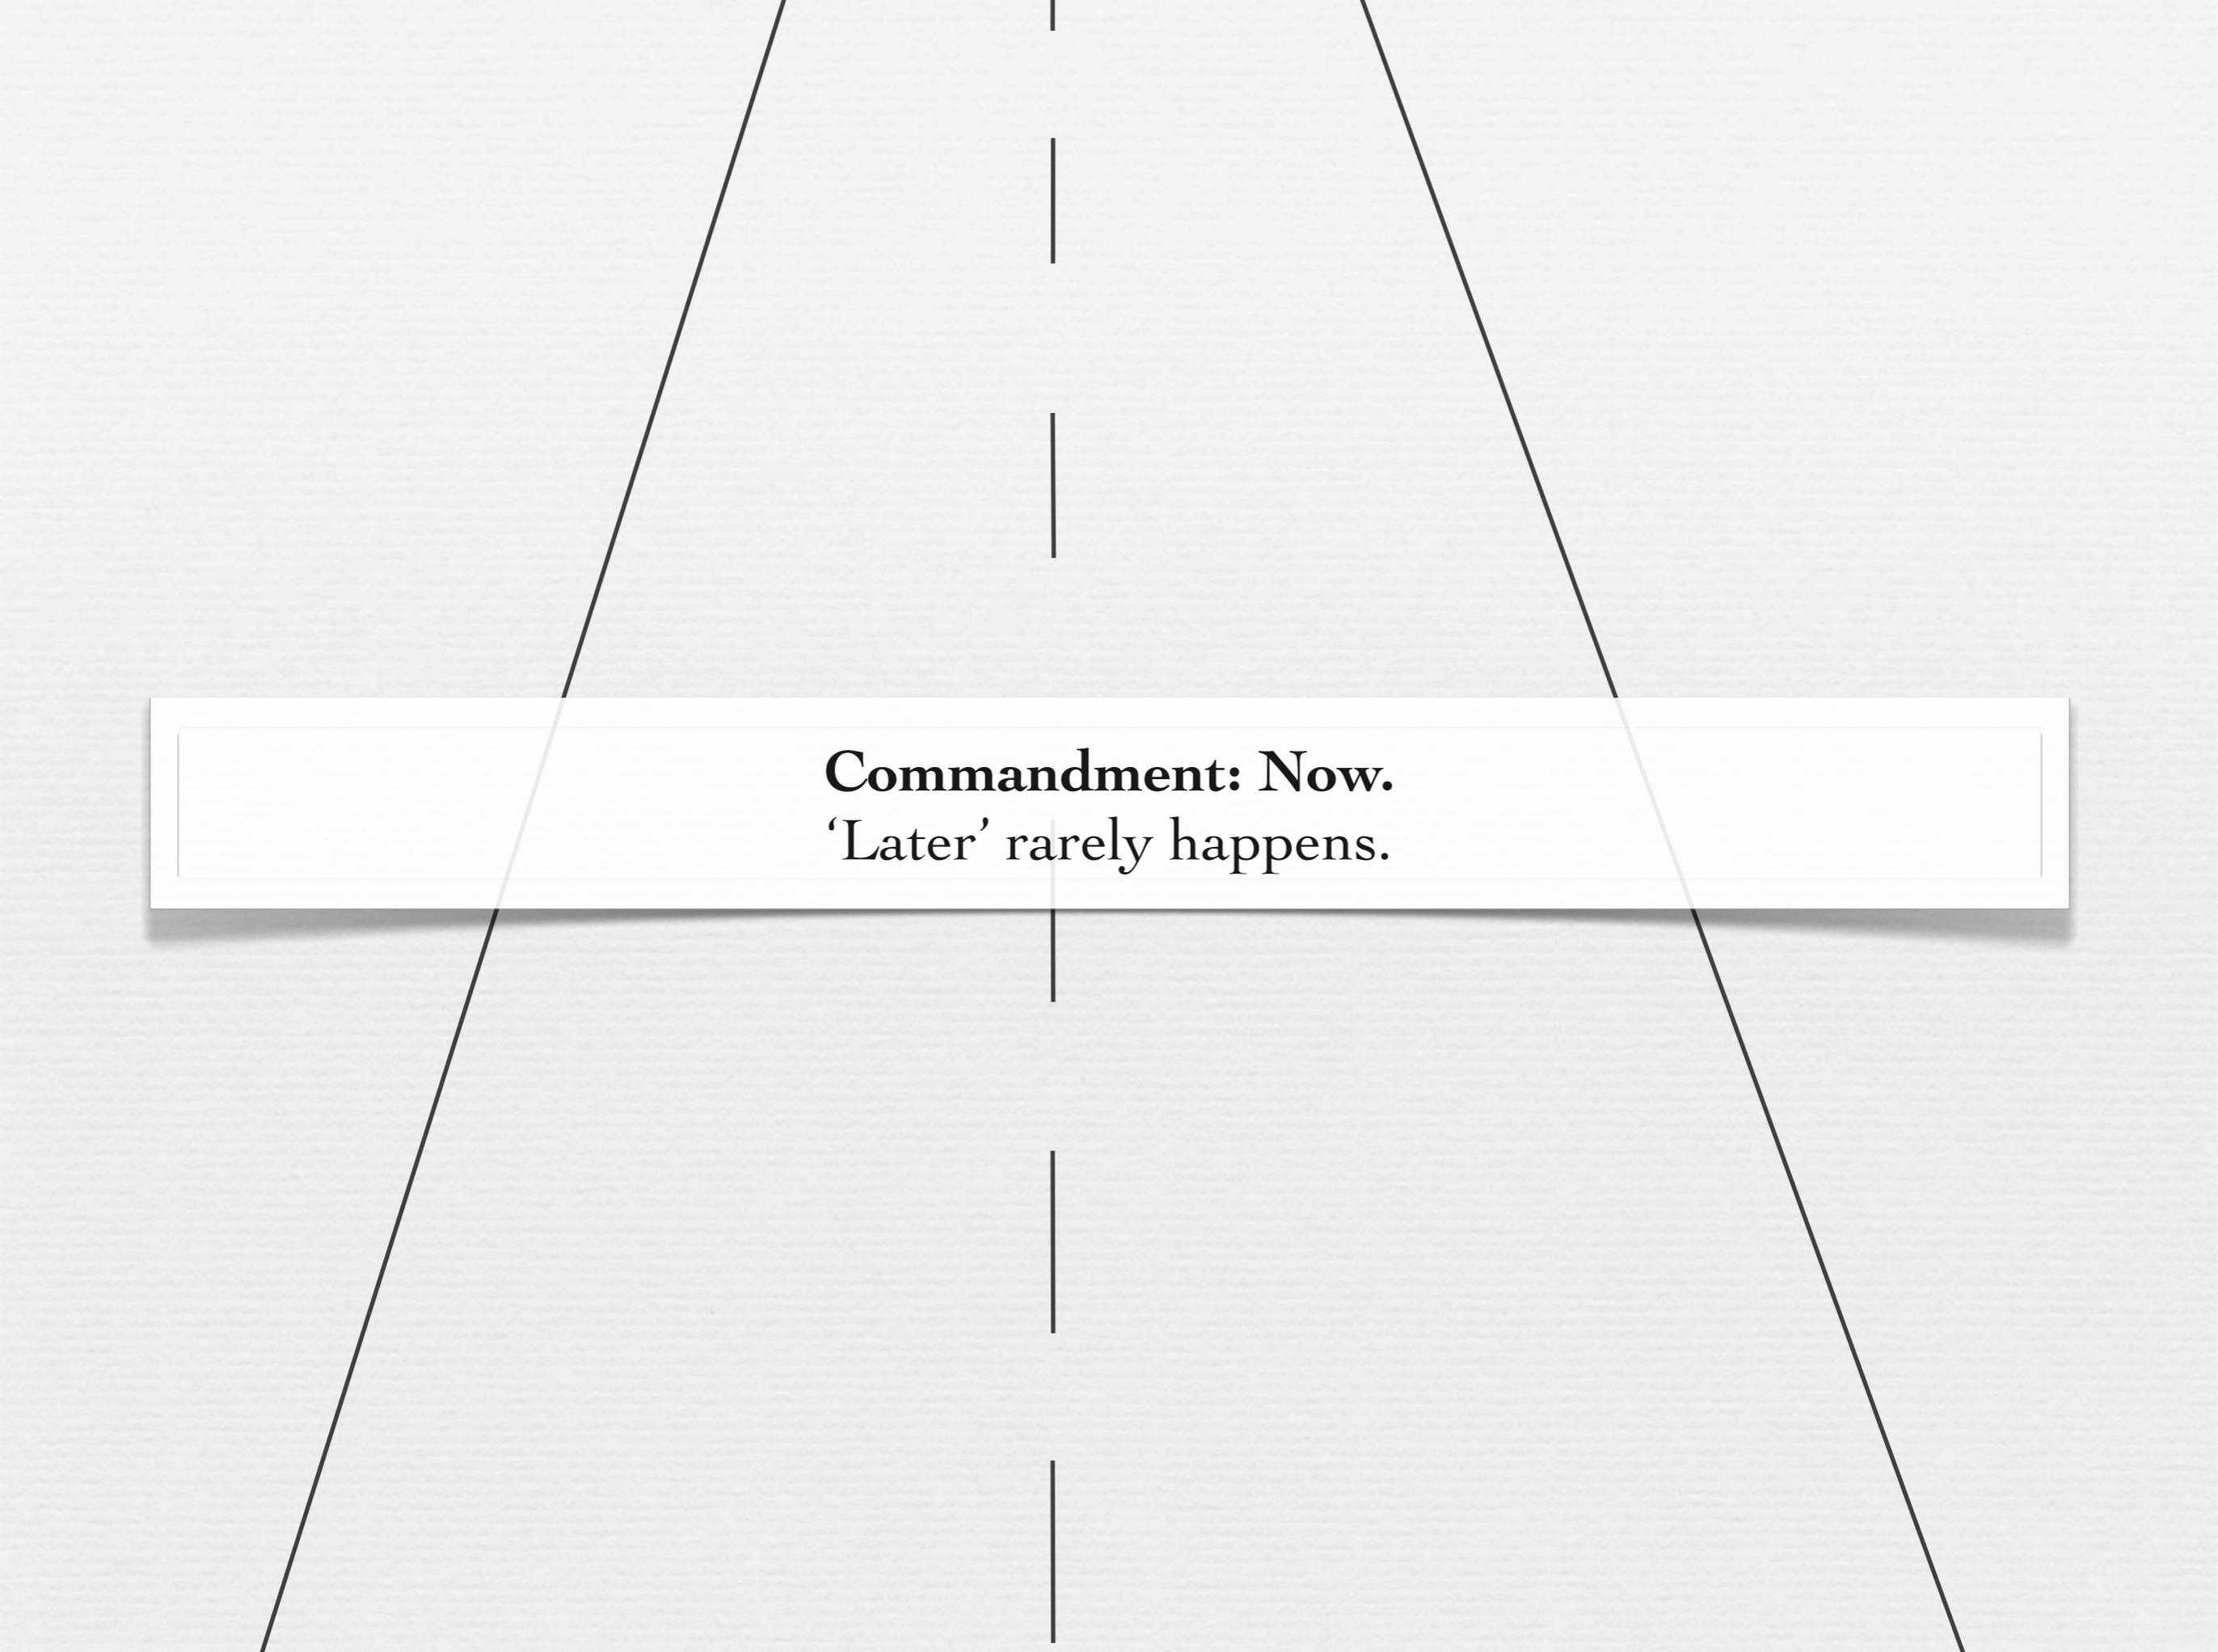

Commandment: Want what you already have.

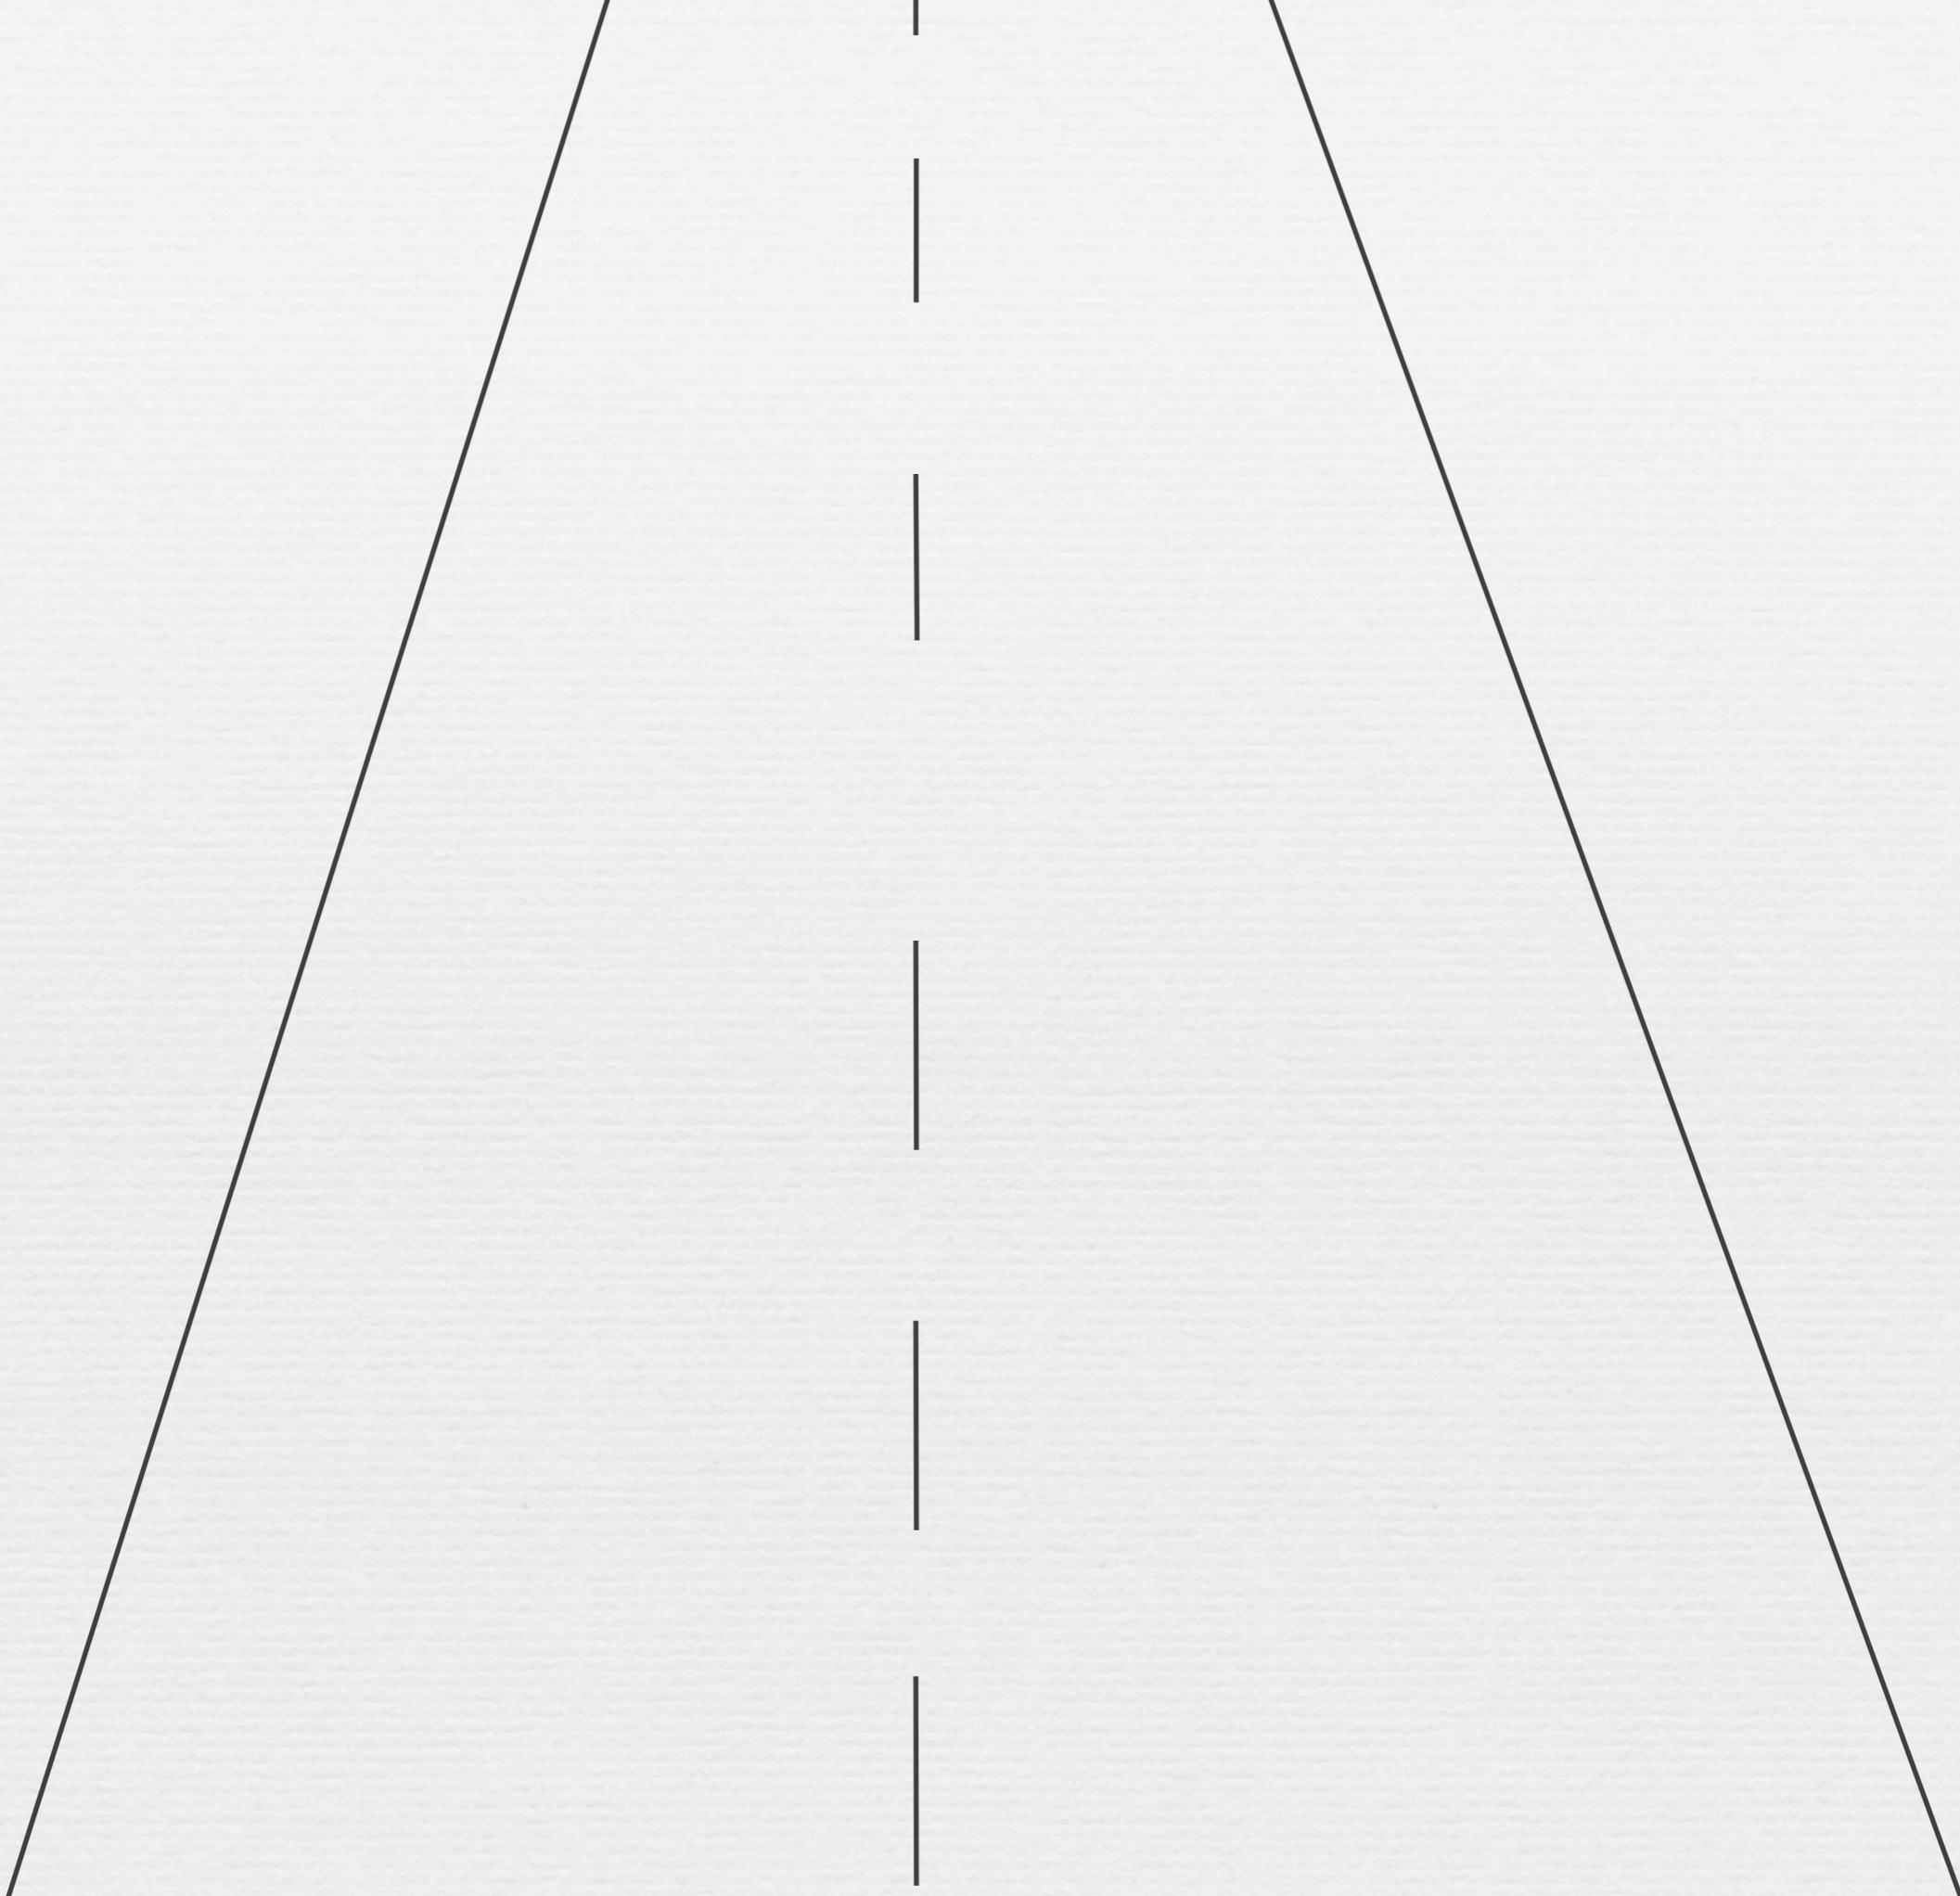

Utilize your current resources.

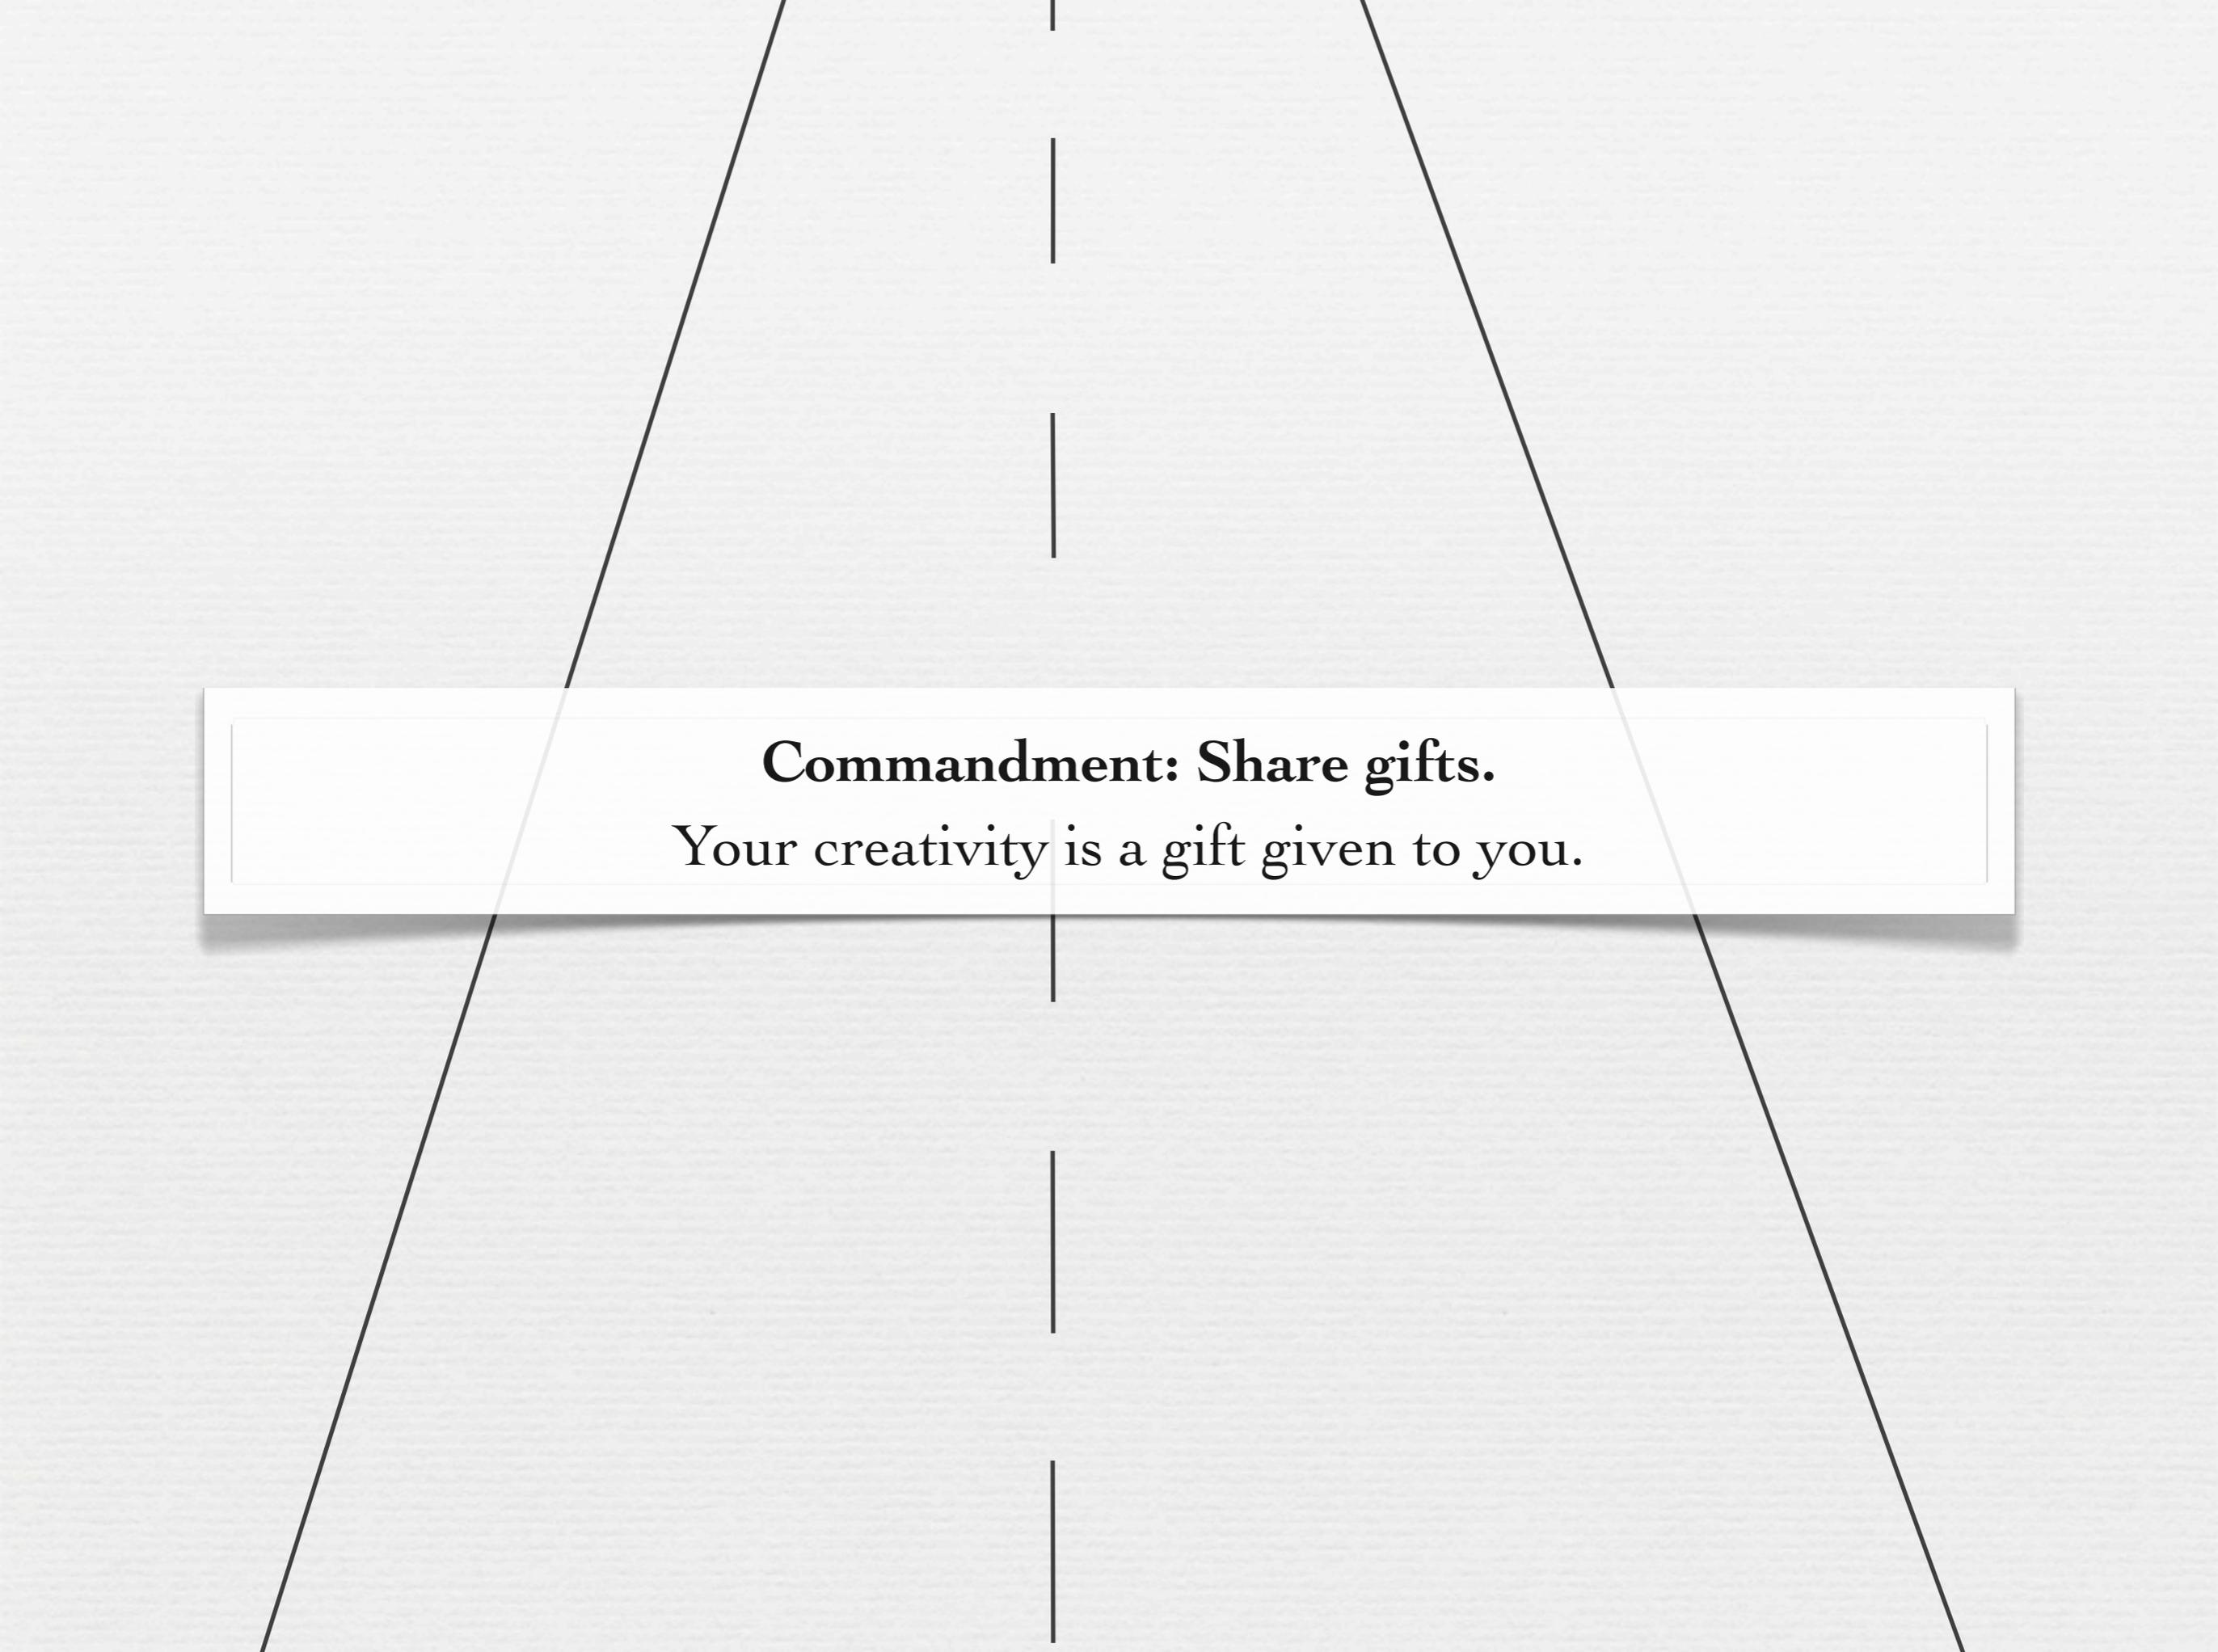

Commandment: Now.
'Later' rarely happens.

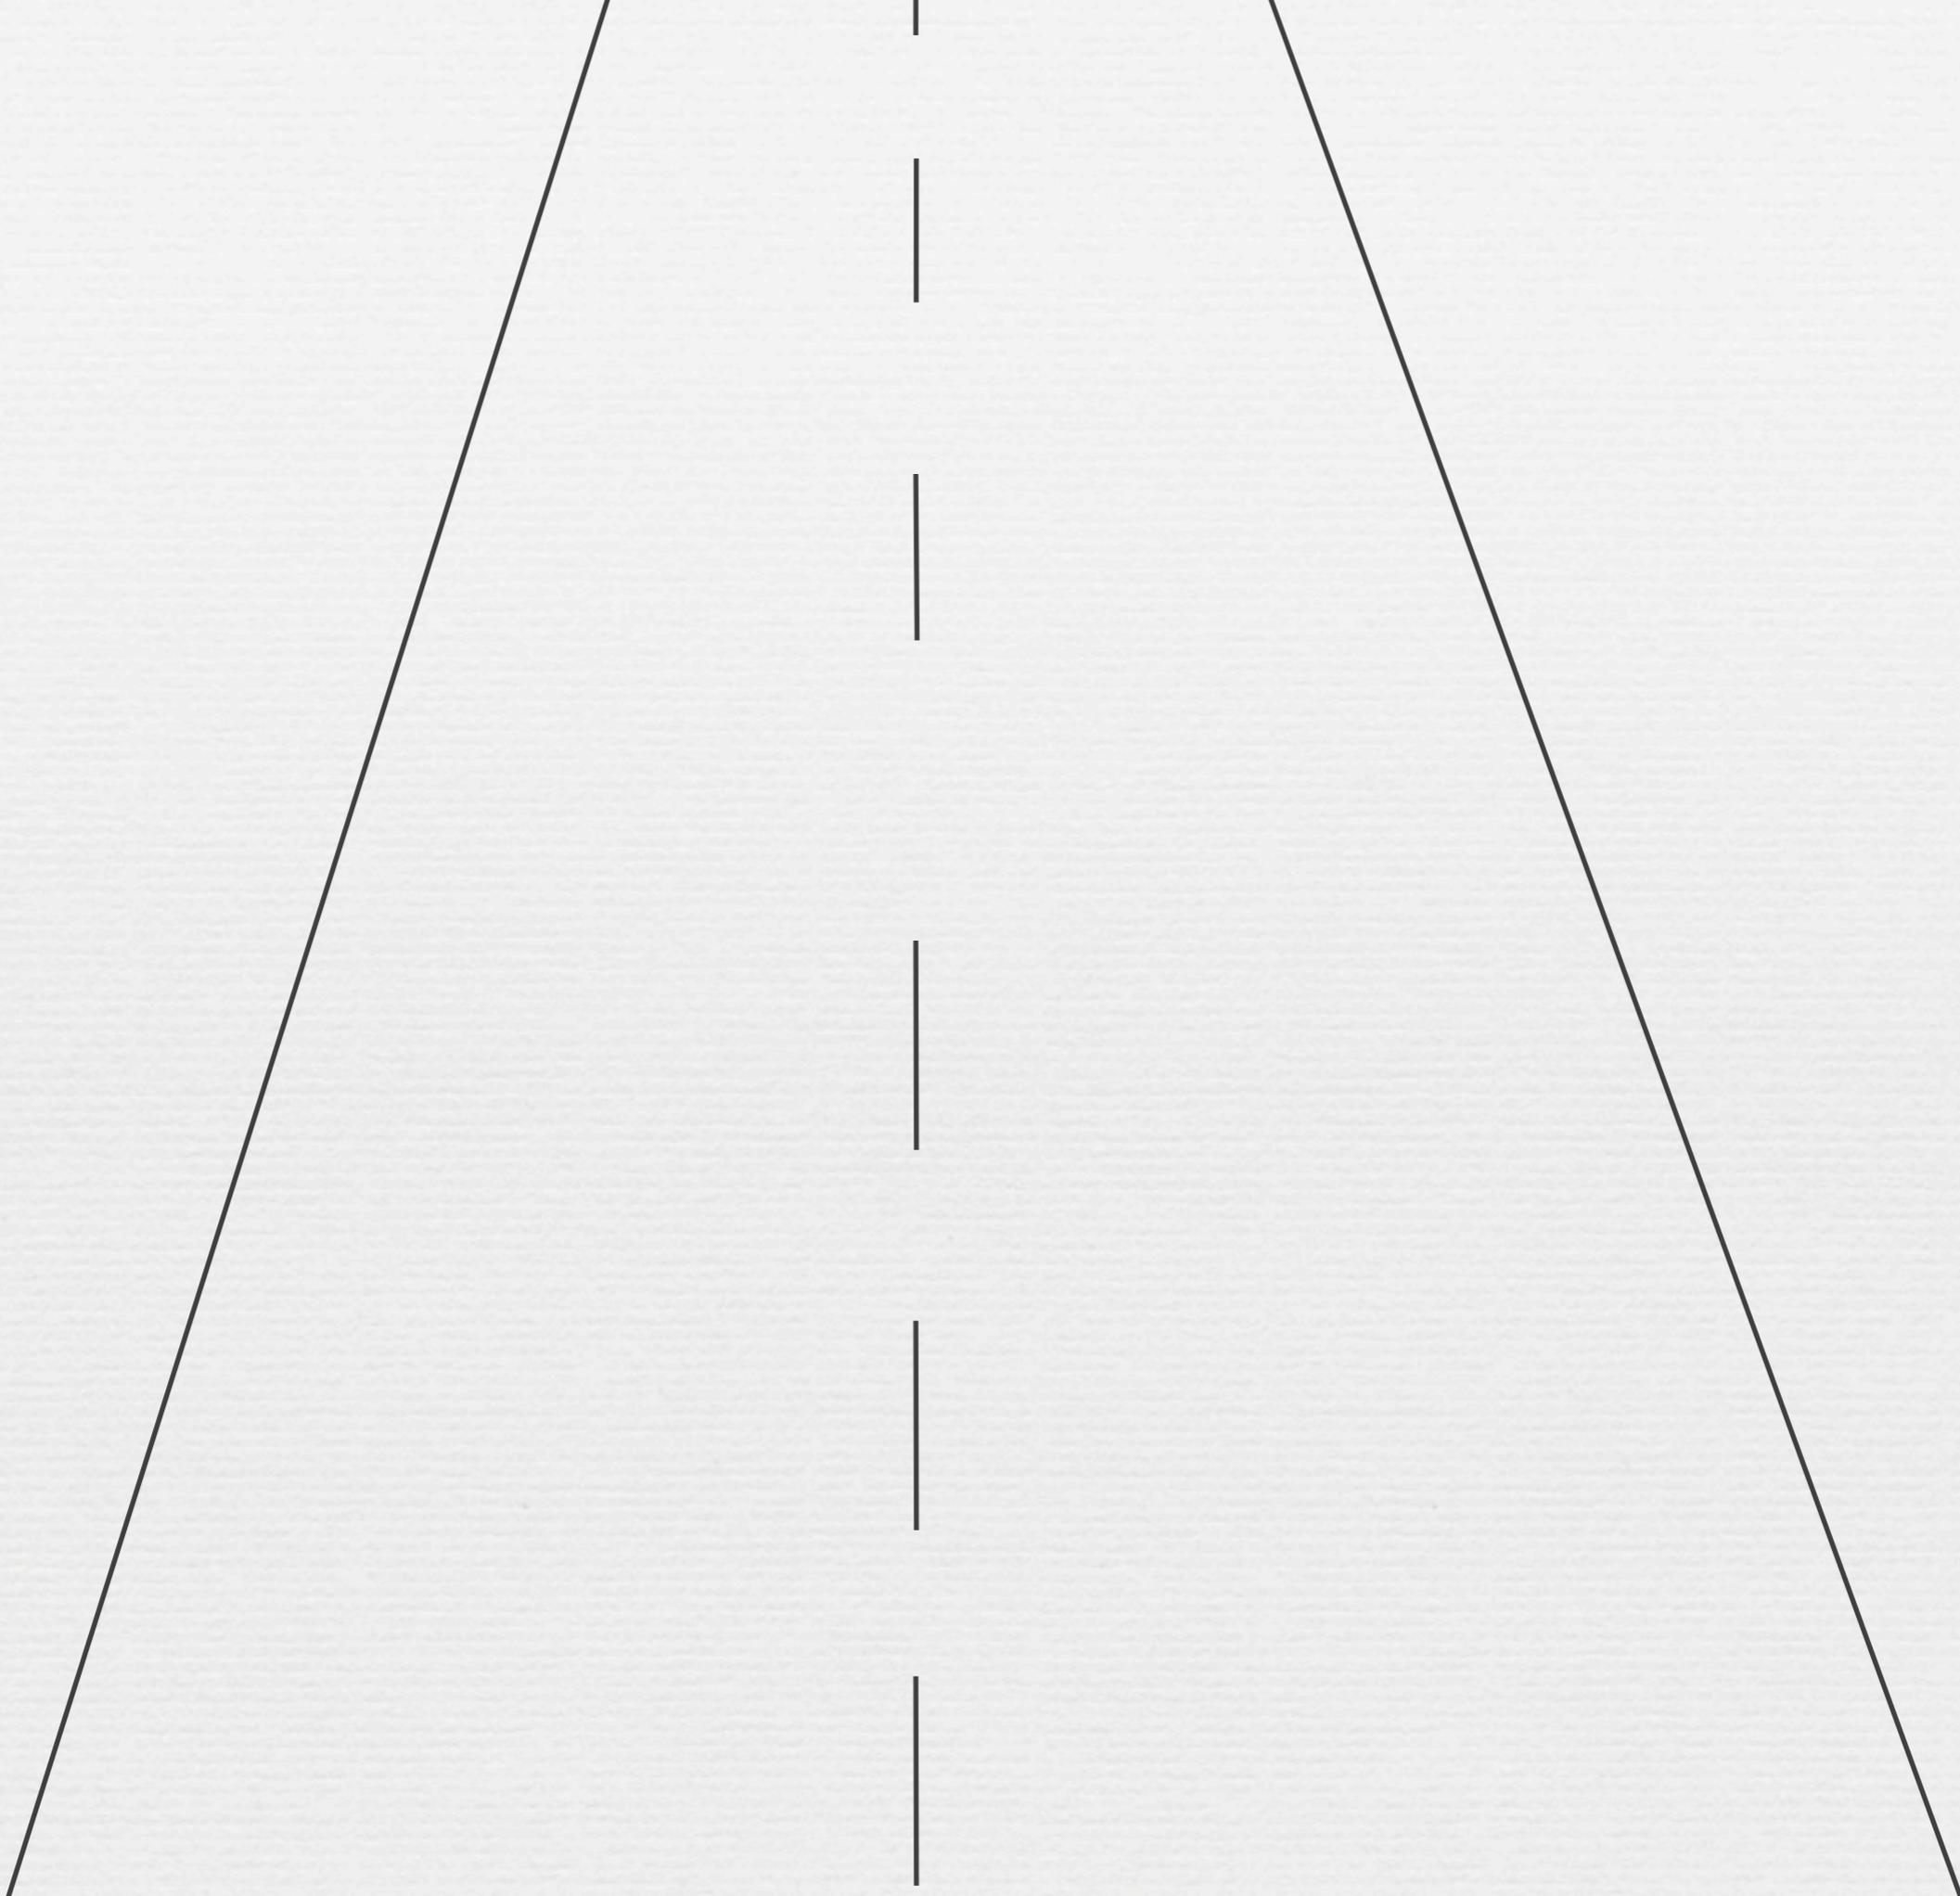

Sustain

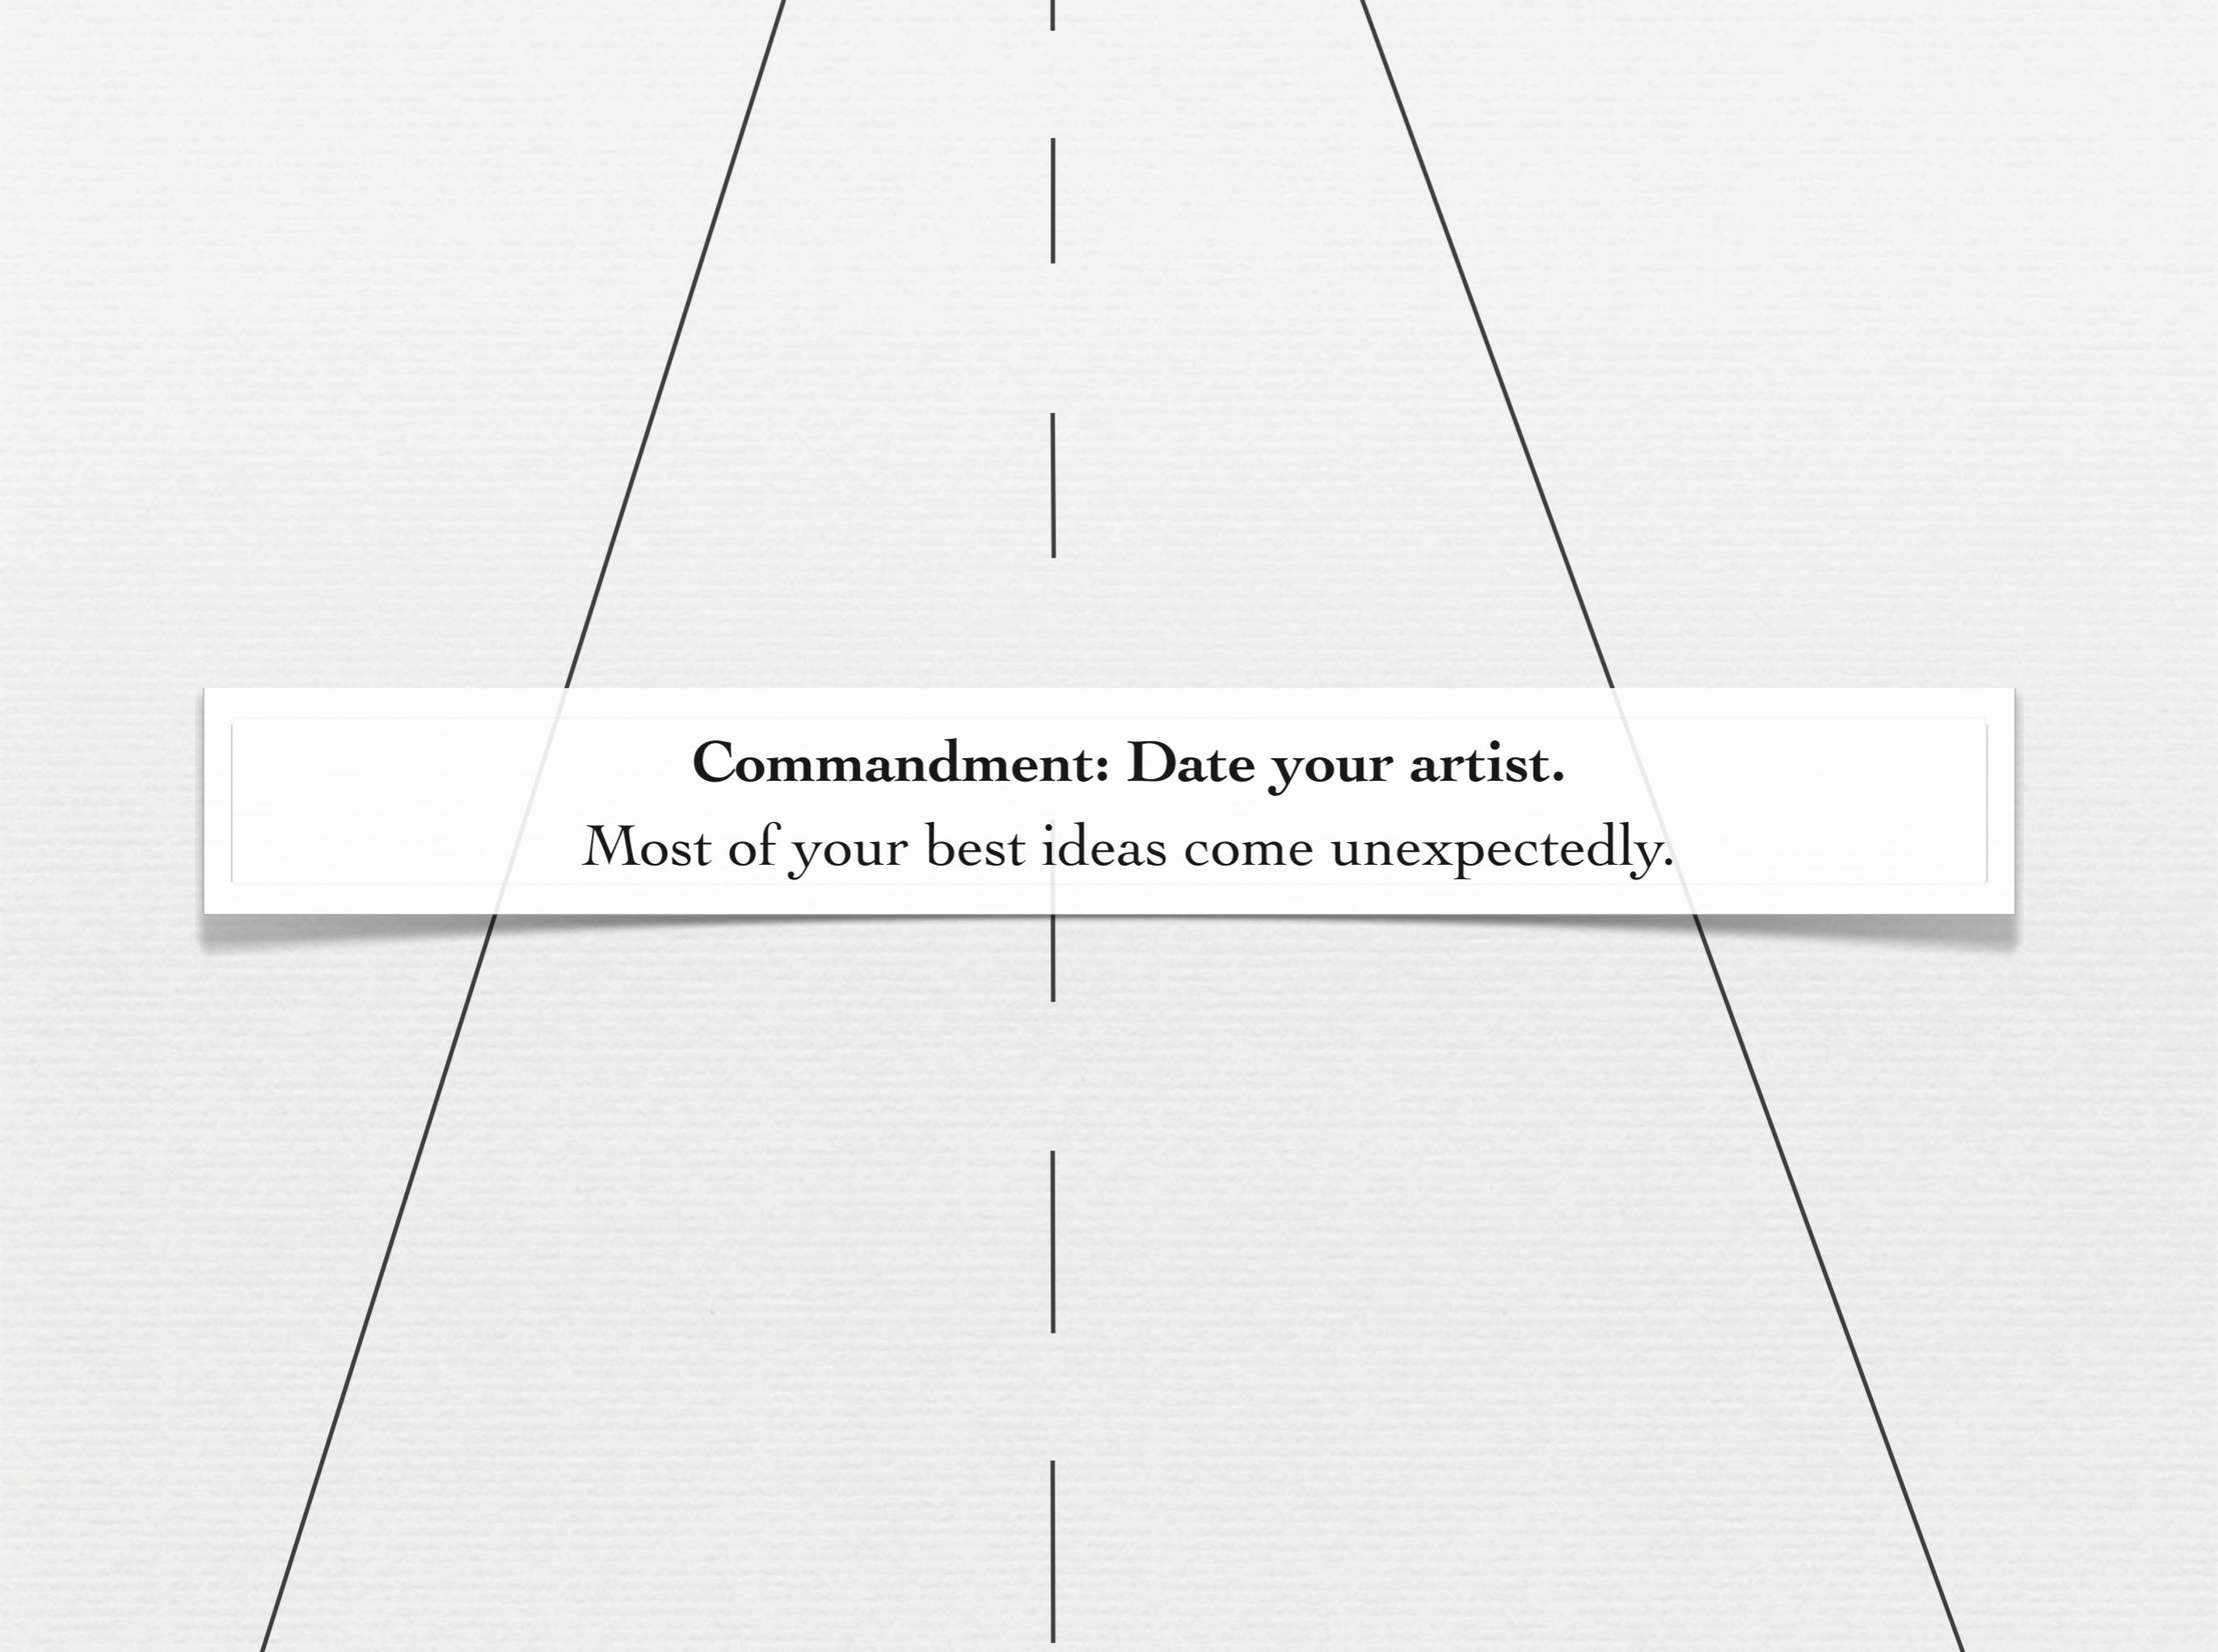

Commandment: Share gifts.

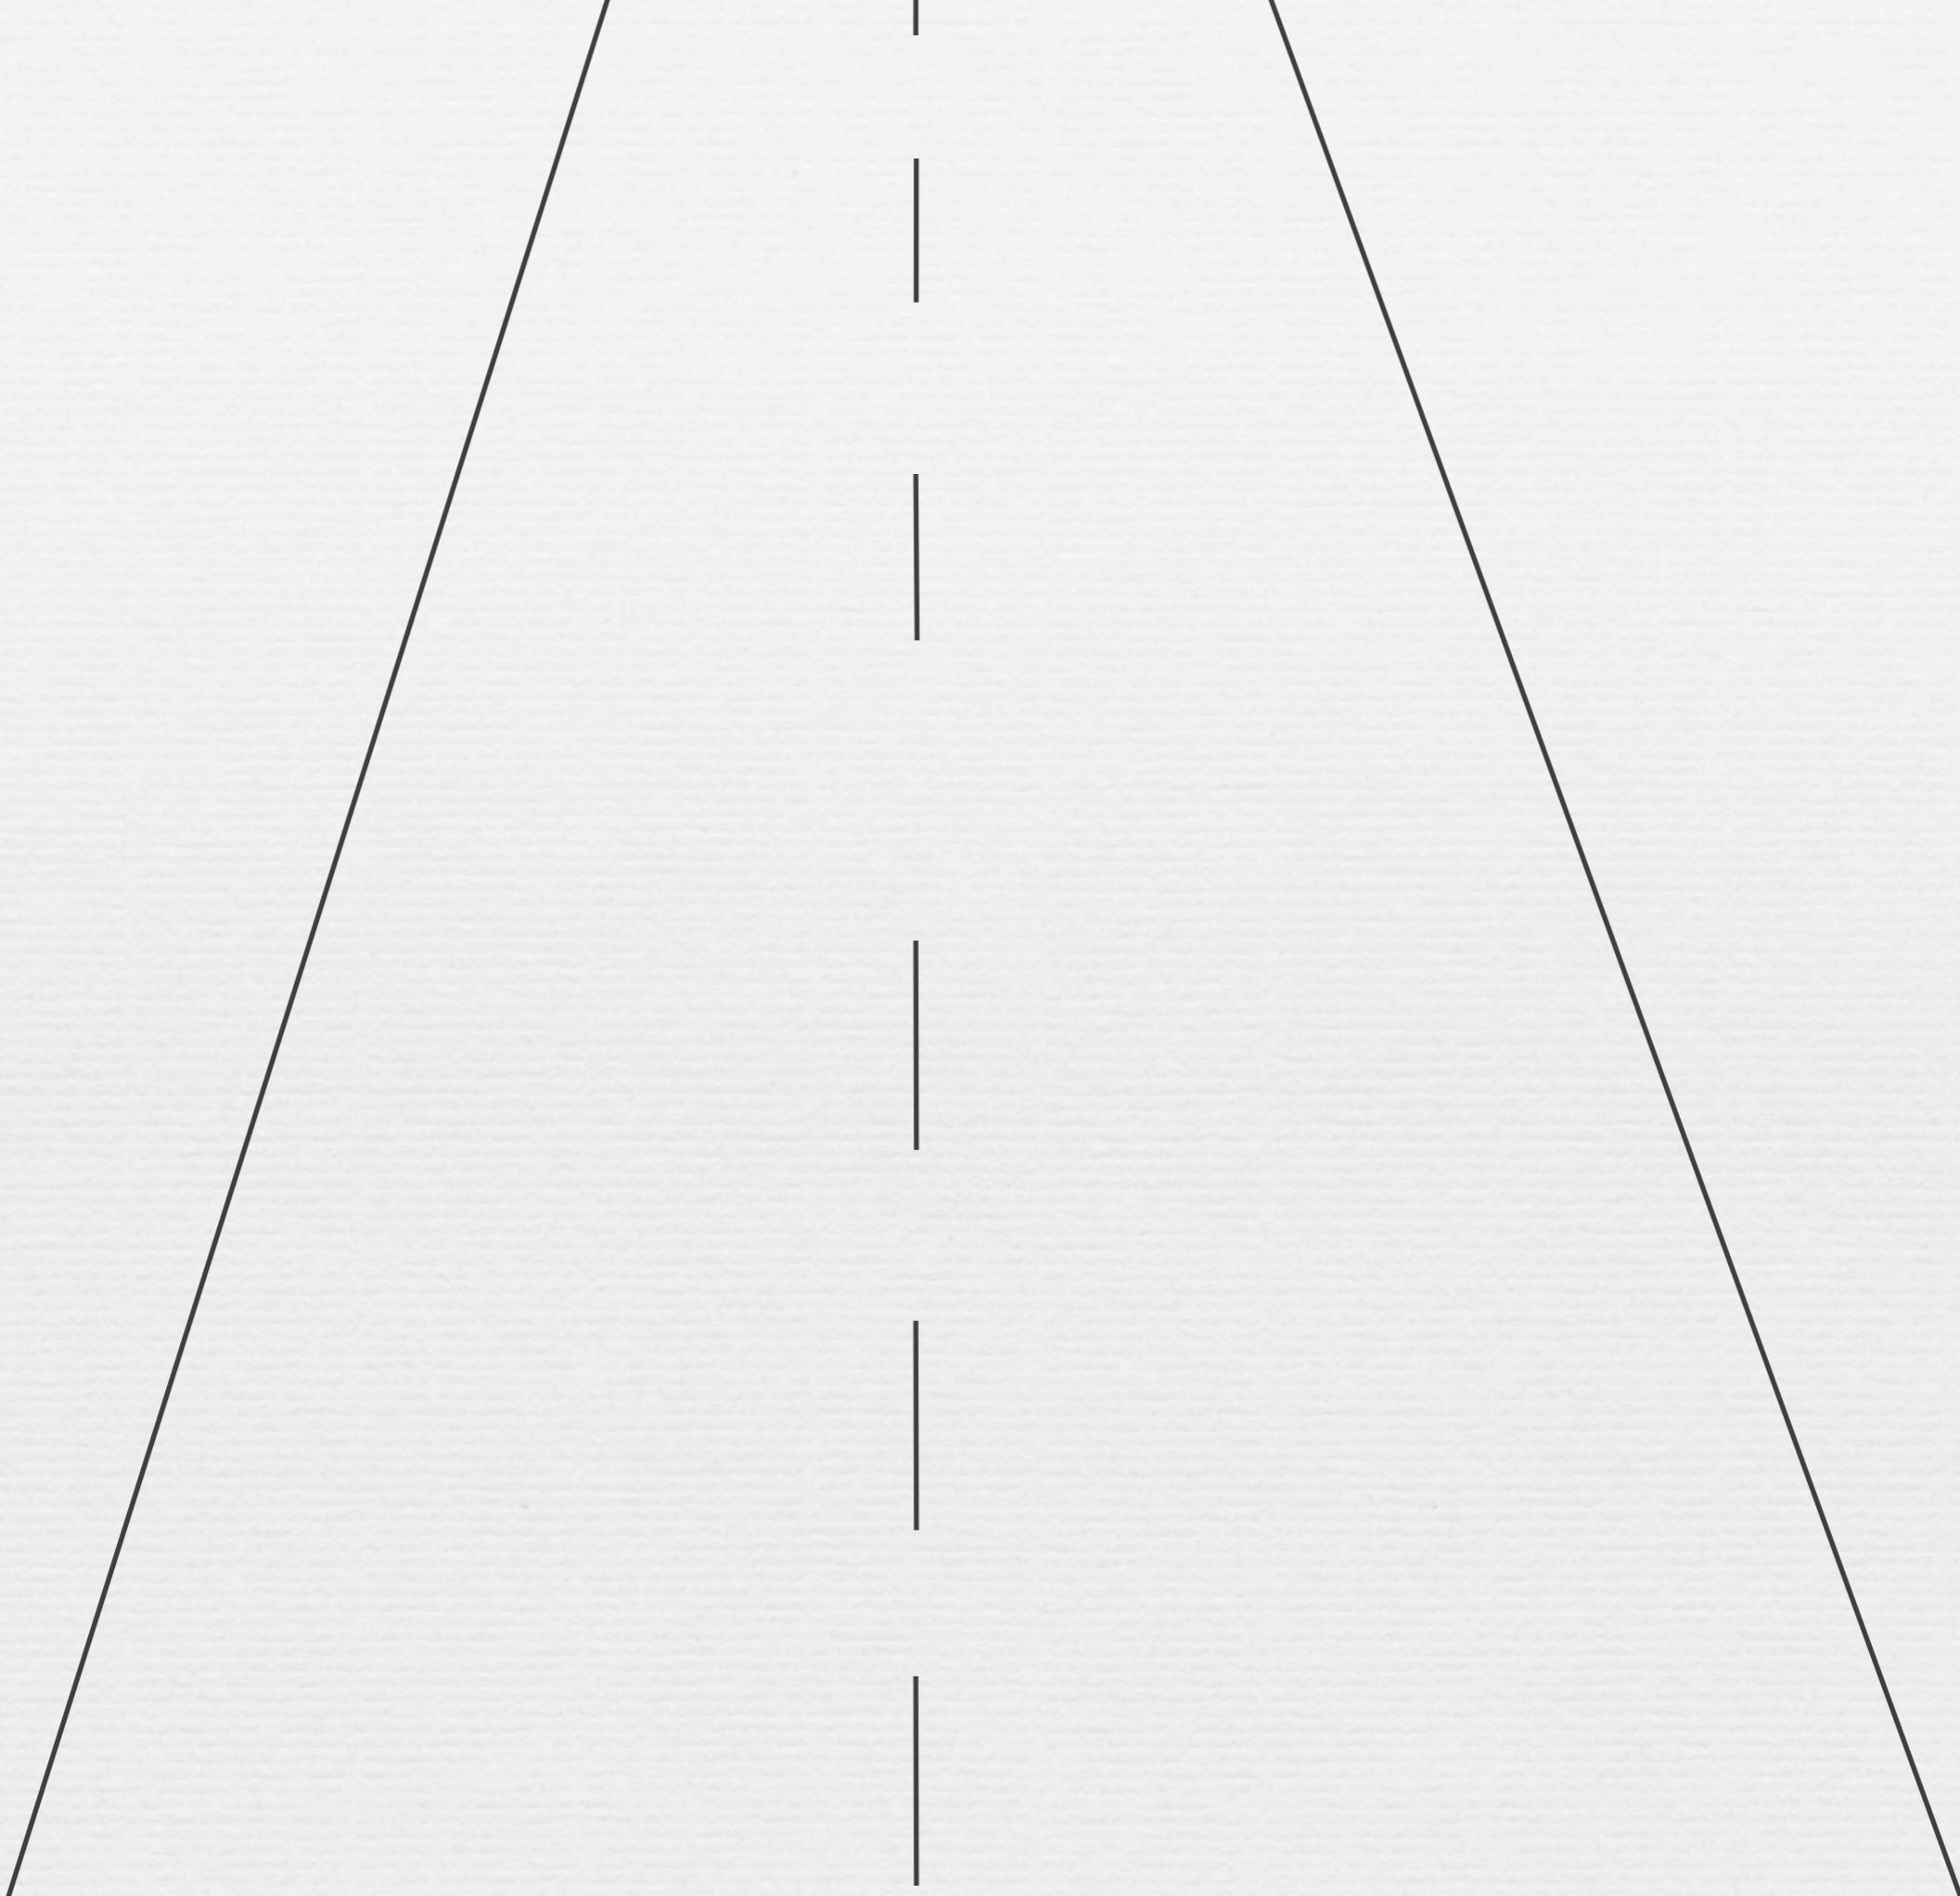

Your creativity is a gift given to you.

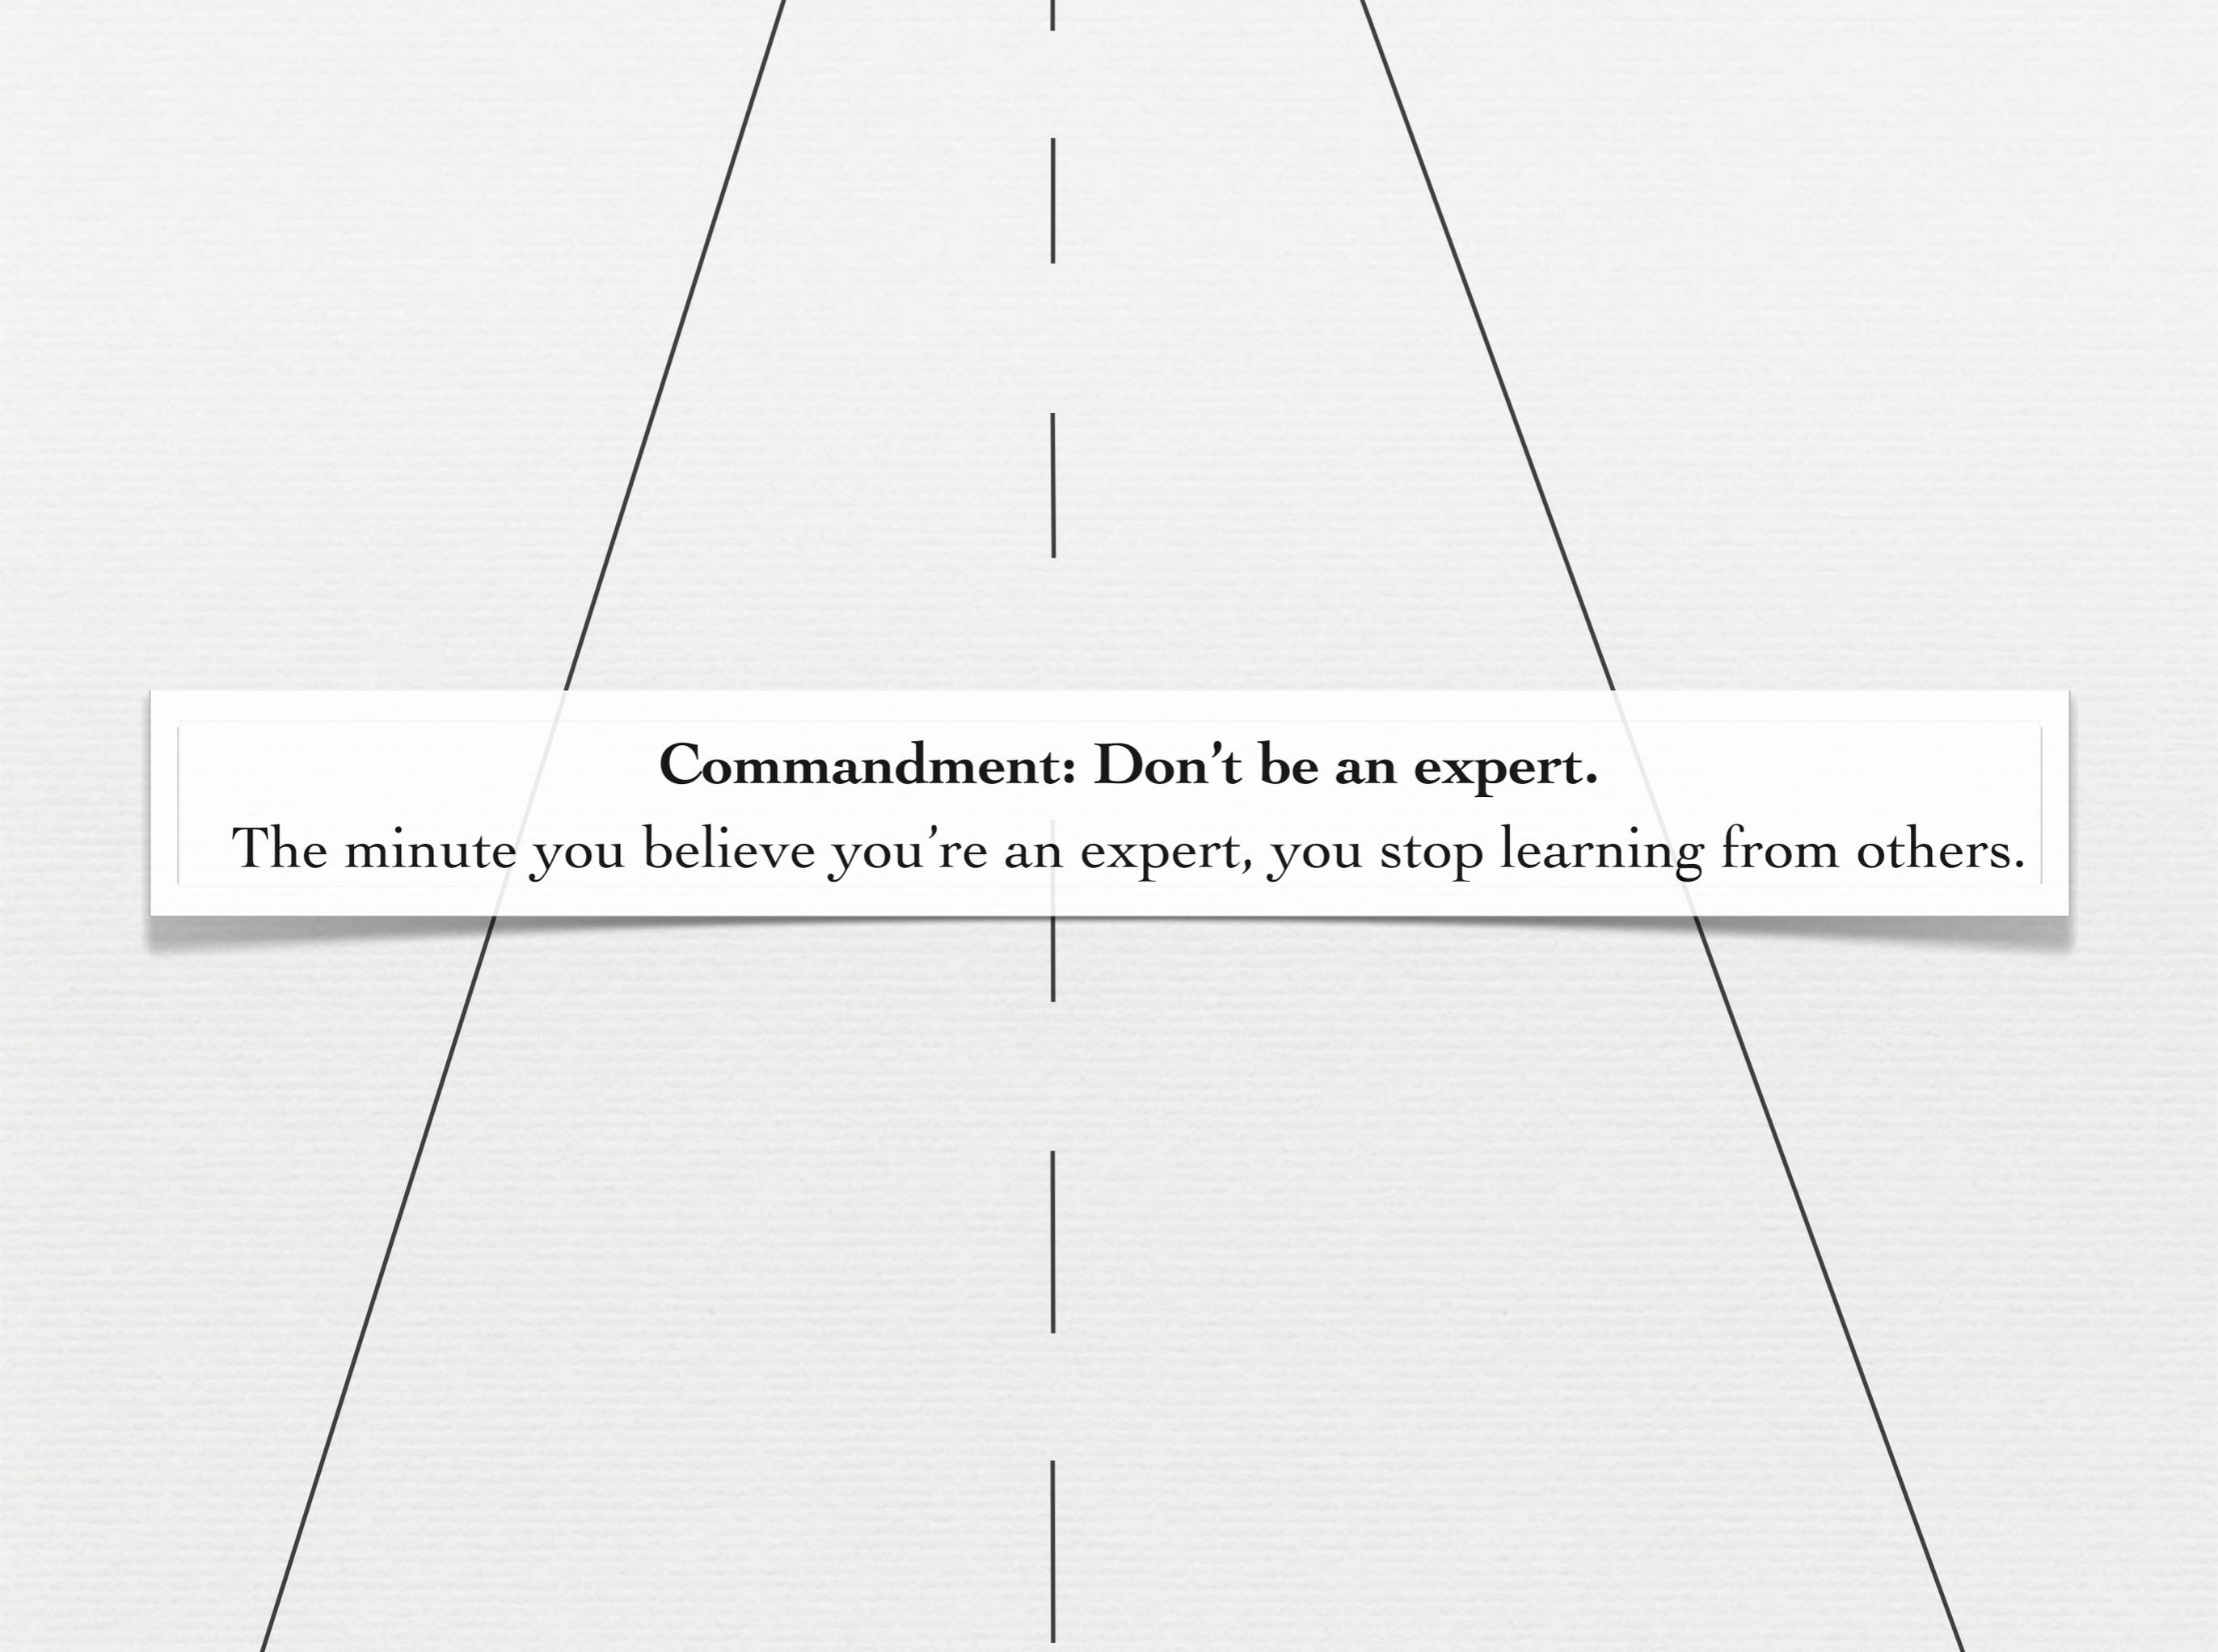

Commandment: Date your artist.
Most of your best ideas come unexpectedly.

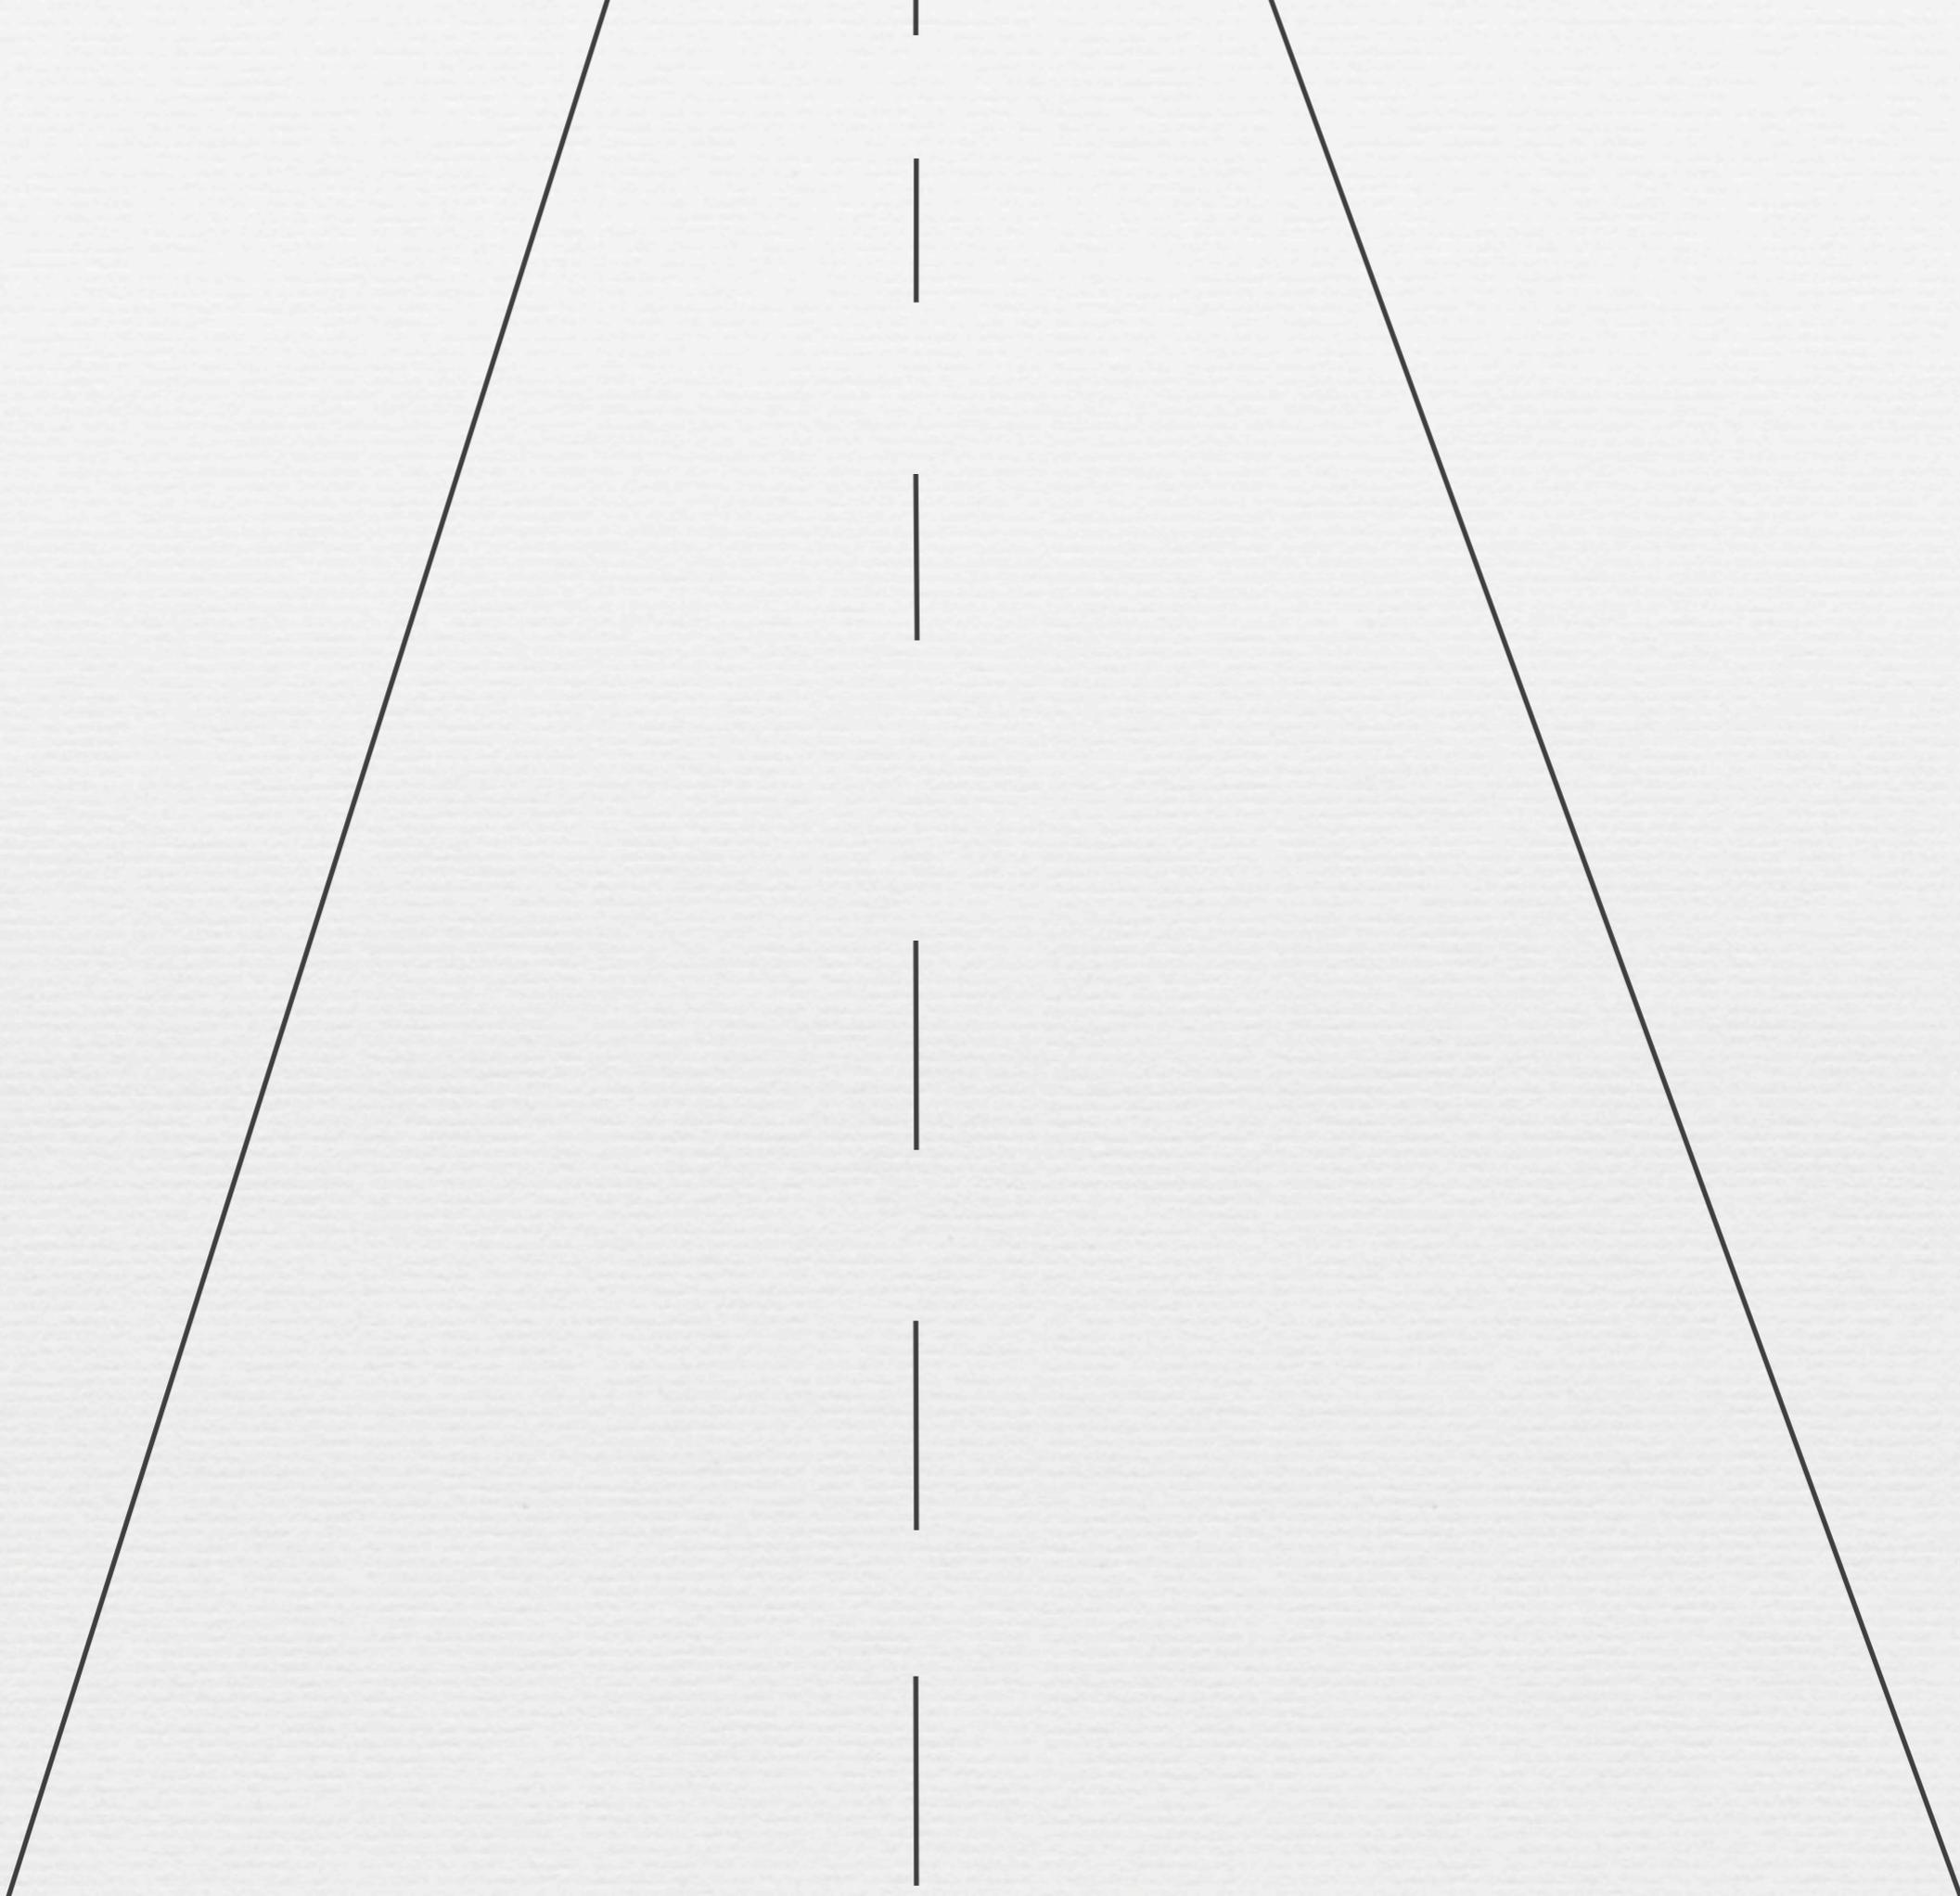

Grow

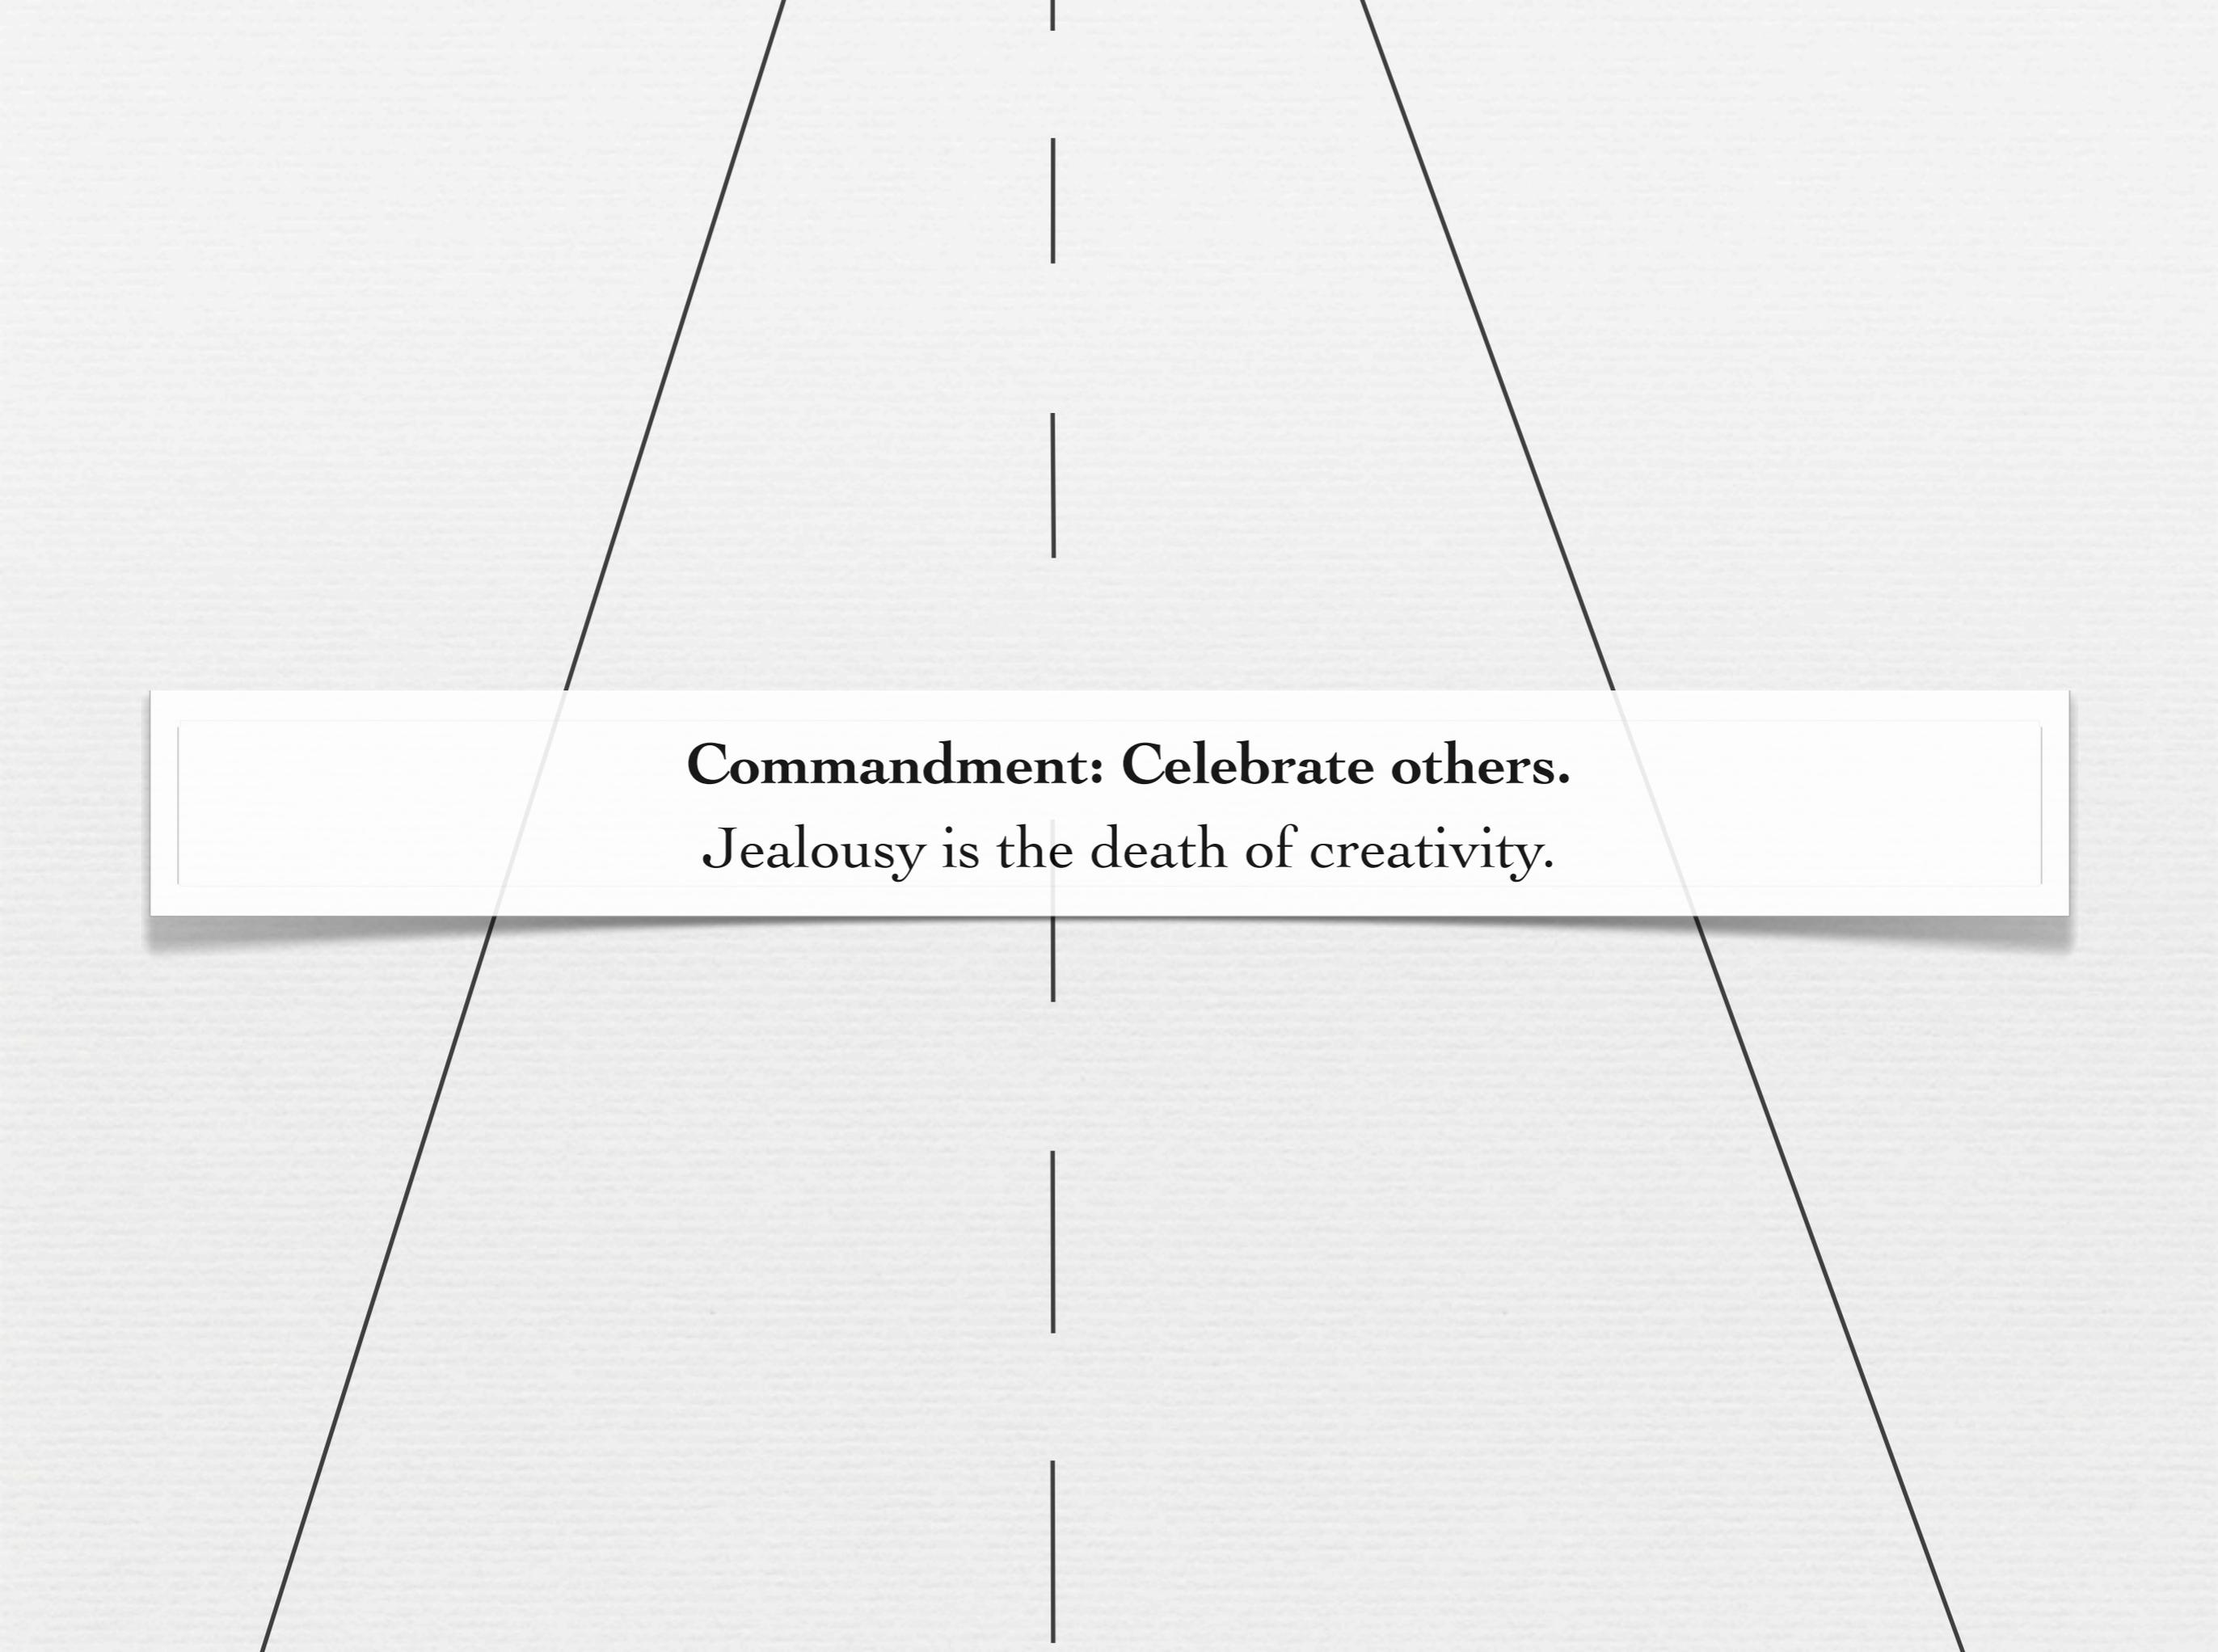

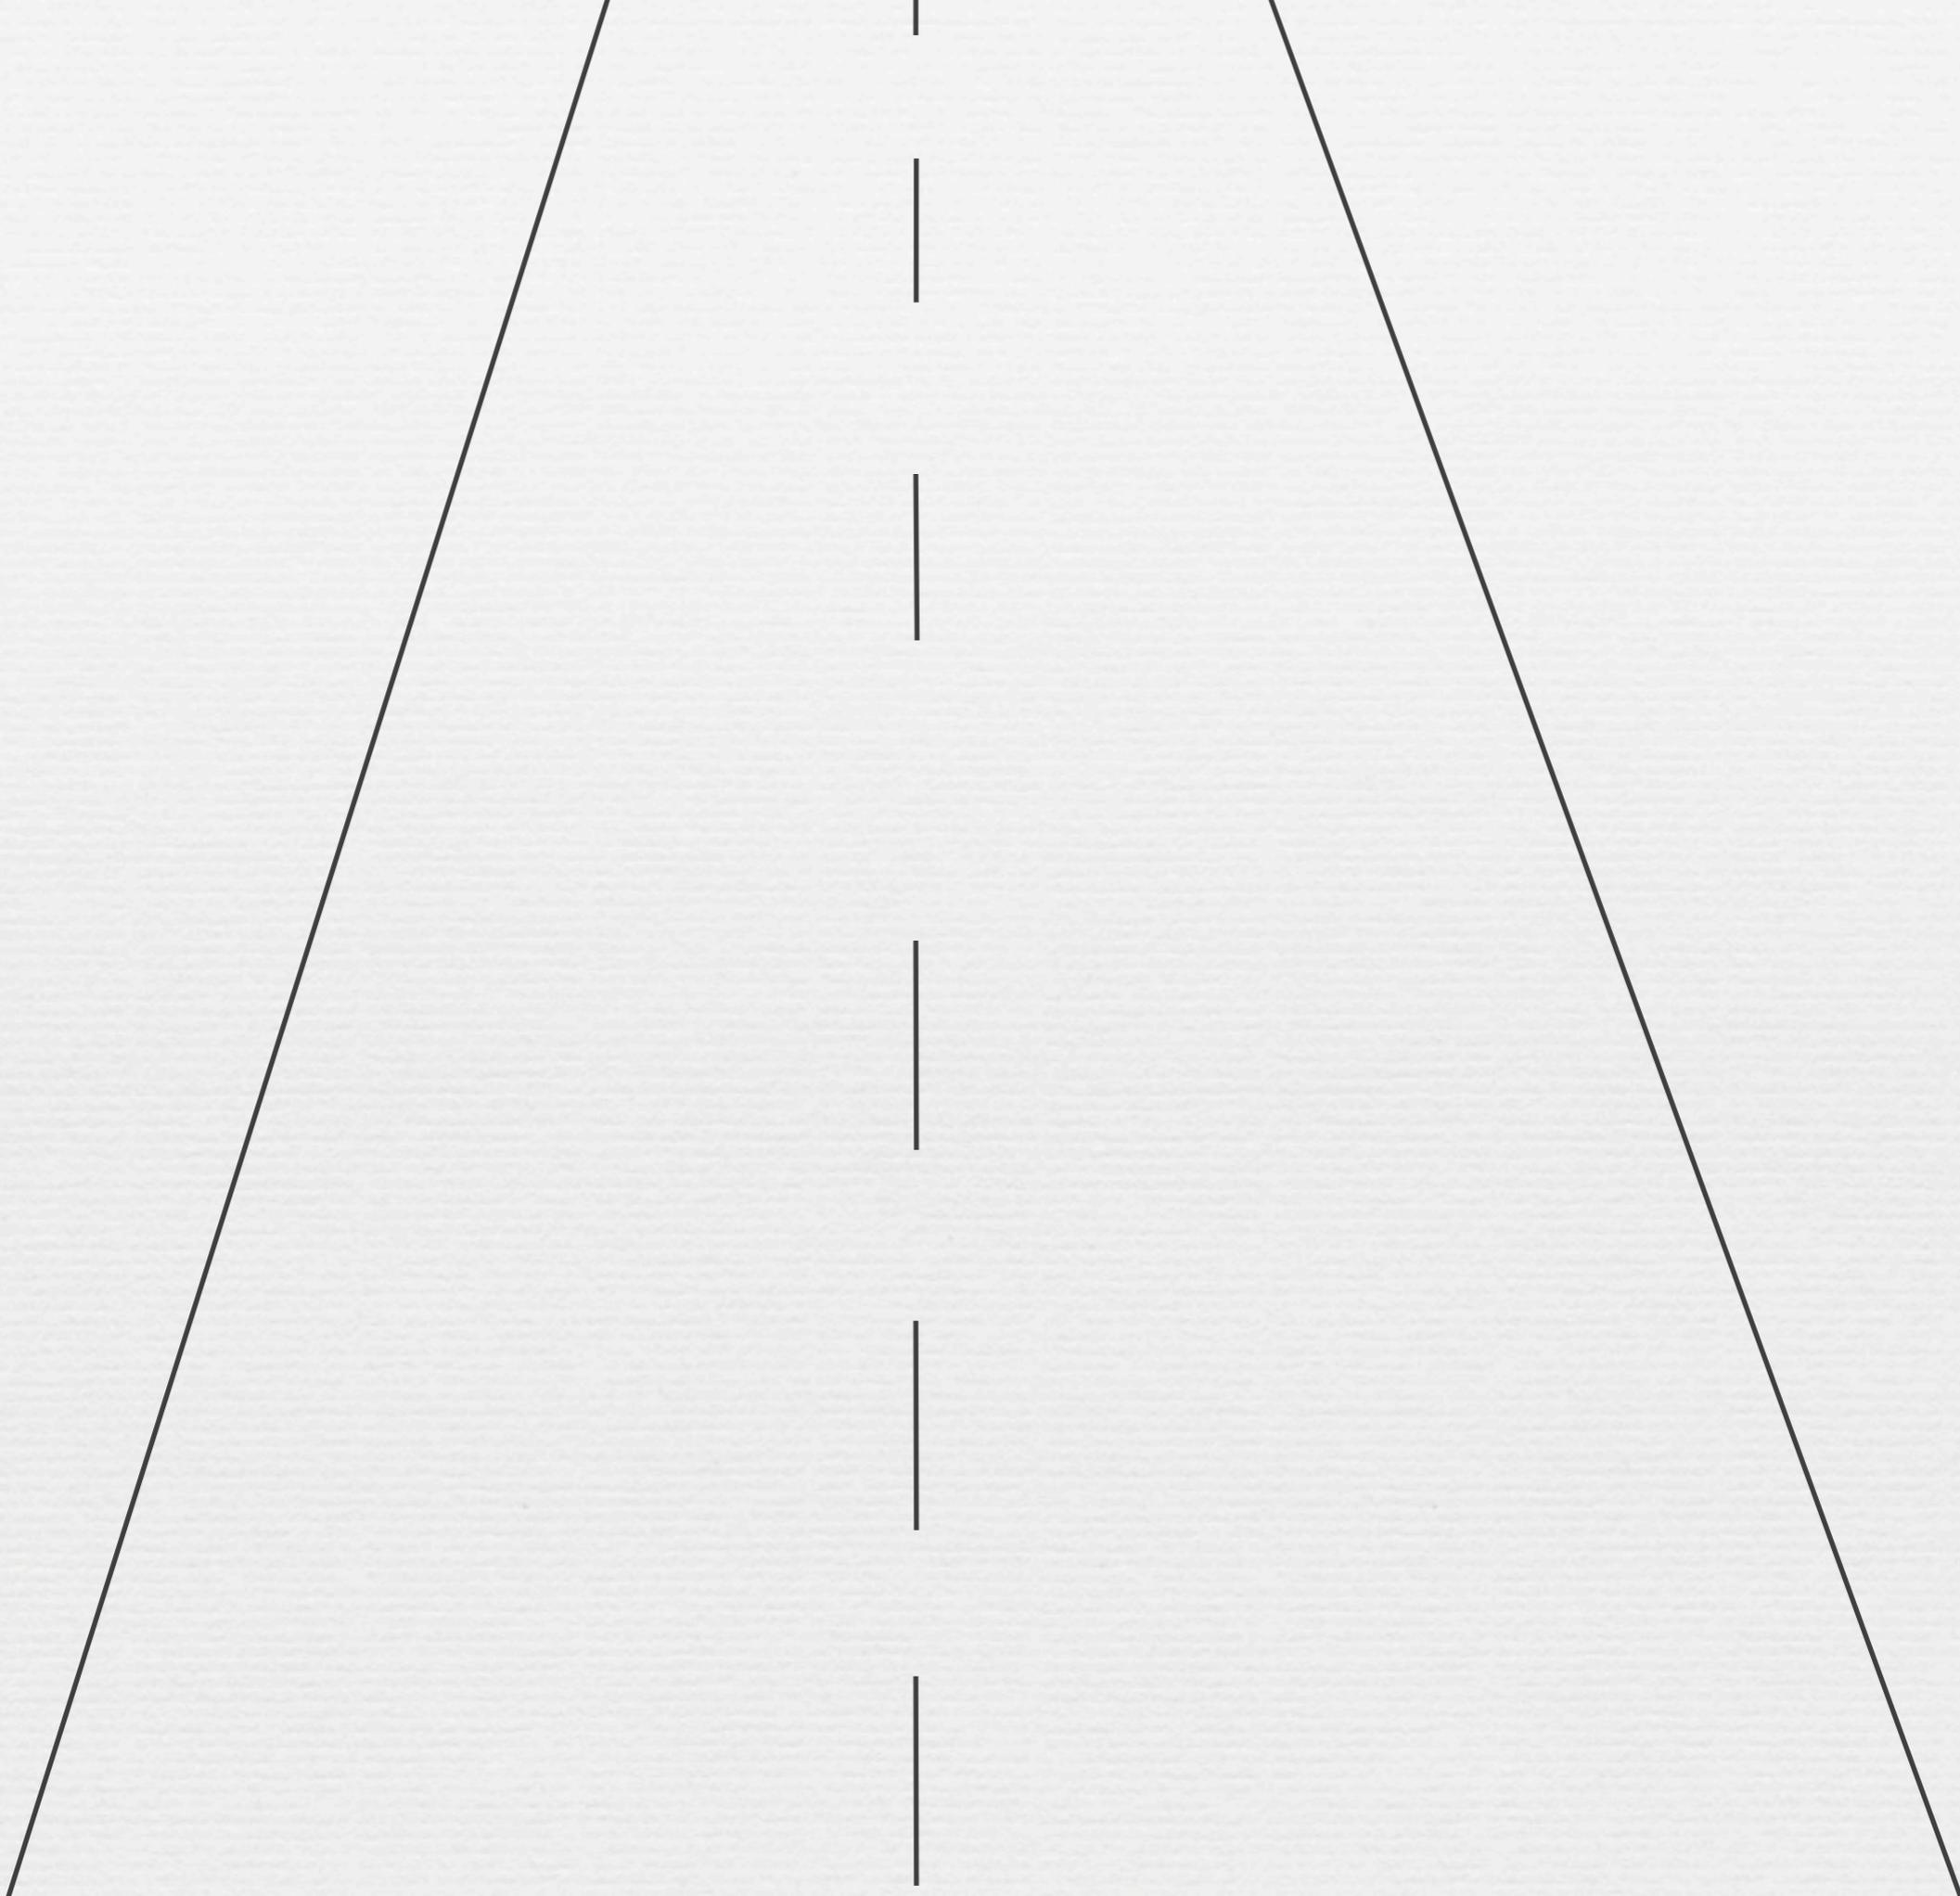

Commandment: Don't be an expert.

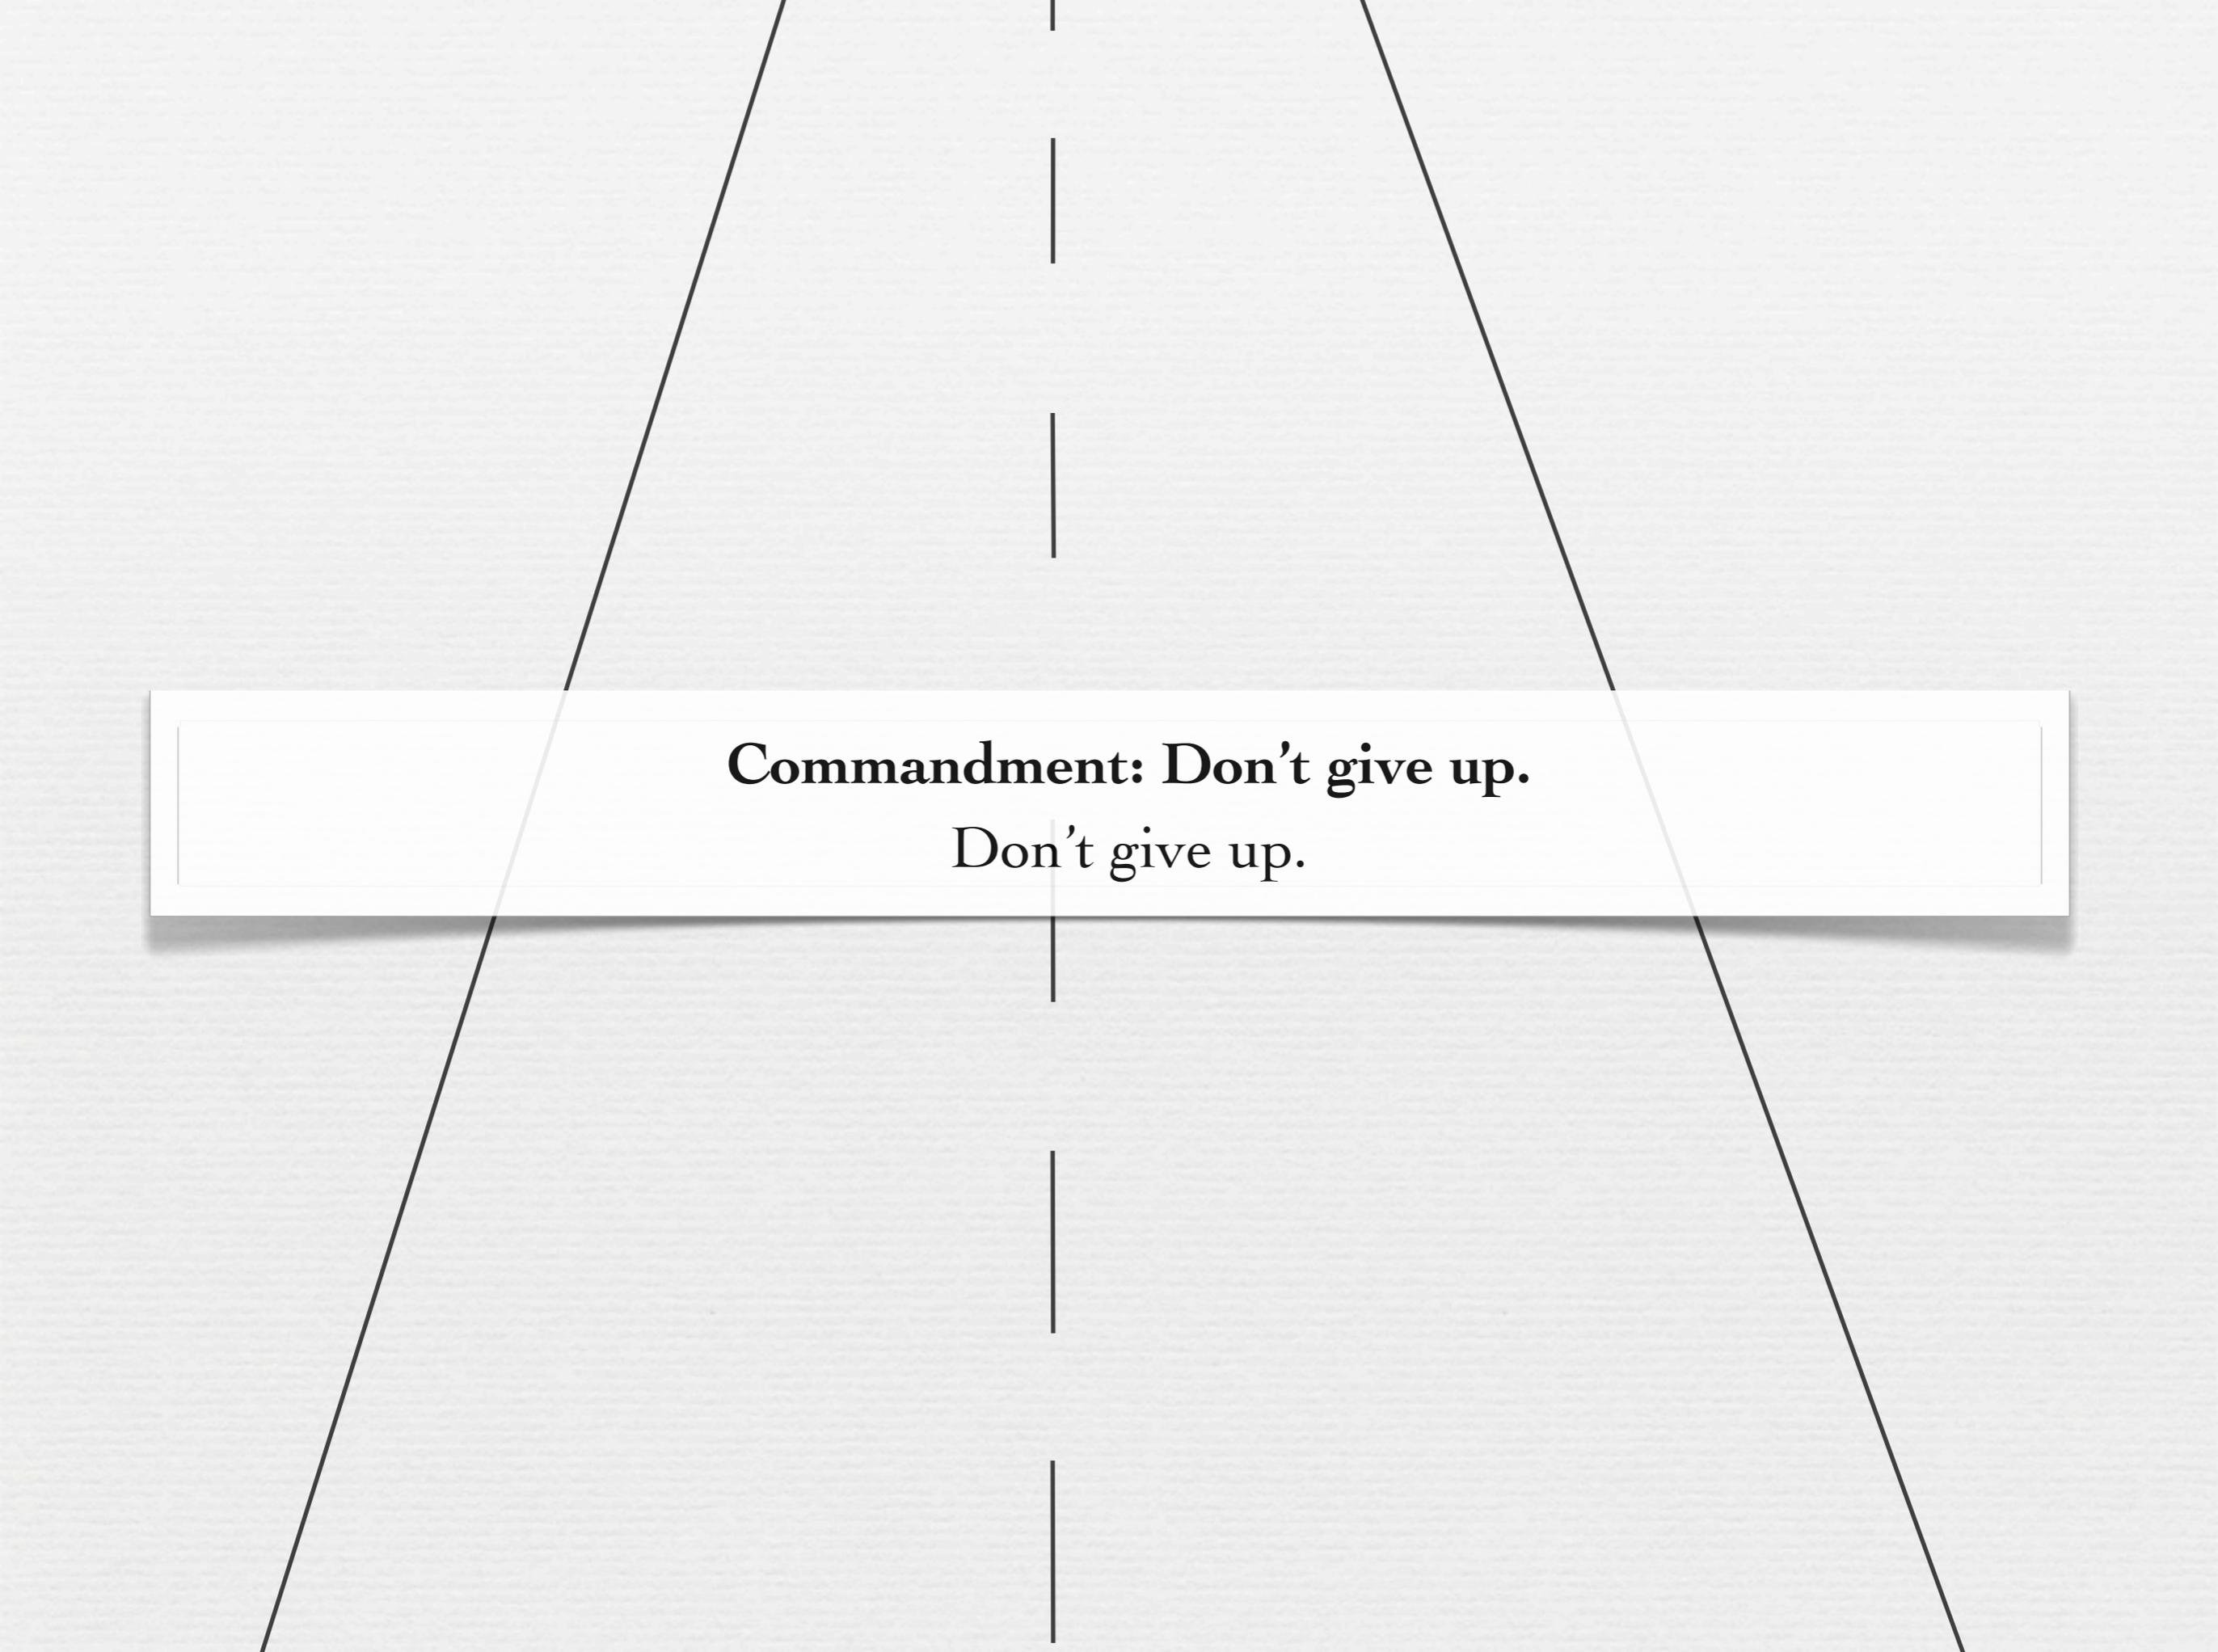

The minute you believe you're an expert, you stop learning from others.

Commandment: Celebrate others.
Jealousy is the death of creativity.

Commandment: Don't give up.

Don't give up.
